Berlin Says British Eighth Army Is in Syria for Invasion

Germans Reported Massing 150,000 Men in Italy to Guard Brenner Pass

LONDON, June 25 (AP).—The Germans were reported unofficially tonight to be massing about ten divisions of up to 150,000 men in Northern Italy to guard the Brenner Pass, southern portal to Germany, against invasion, while the Berlin radio itself claimed the famous British Eighth Army had been sent to Syria to spearhead an Allied attack from there.

The German troop movement was reported by an unofficial source with close continental connections, and it was suggested that the Nazis were concerned over the possibility that Italy might collapse in event of an Allied landing.

Except for the German Air Force and special service forces nearly all the other Nazi troop strength was reported already pulled back from the crisis zones—Sicily, the toe of Italy, and Sardinia.

The report of the Eighth Army transfer was wholly unconfirmed and it was recalled the King visited the army last week in Tripoli. The Allies have long been building powerful armies in the Middle East.

SEE SIGNIFICANCE IN RAID ON SEDES

Some London observers attached particular significance to the surprise raid by United States bombers yesterday upon the Nazi air base at Sedes, six miles southeast of Salonika. The most likely reason for raids in this area would be to knock out bases from which German planes might operate against any Allied amphibious operation aimed at the Dodecanese and other stepping stones to Greece, it was said.

The return of the King recalled the widespread reaction of London to the news of his trip, that he did not go to praise any army for its victory, but to cheer troops on the threshold of a new onslaught.

Roosevelt's Veto Killed In Congress

Strike Law Passed In Senate and House

WASHINGTON, June 25 (CP).—President Roosevelt ran into a rebellious Congress today that swiftly and decidedly overrode his veto of anti-strike legislation, passing it into law against his wishes.

In a series of fast developments, the President vetoed legislation outlawing strikes in Government-controlled plants. Within five minutes, the Senate voted, 56 to 25, to set aside the veto and, an hour later, the House of Representatives followed, 244 to 108, automatically incorporating the bill in the statute books. It becomes effective immediately. Thus, for the first time since he became President, Mr. Roosevelt failed to carry Congress with him on a major labor policy, an incident that clearly demonstrated the widening breach between the administrative and legislative branches of Government on domestic issues.

The bill, a legislative child of the coal strike, would provide fines and imprisonment for any person aiding or instigating a strike in a Government-operated war factory and would regulate walkouts in privately operated plants.

In his veto message, the President said the bill would "stimulate labor unrest" and, for that reason, vetoed it.

The bill was passed by Congress after months of wartime work stoppages, climaxed by the third coal strike since the United States en-

Submarine Of U.S. Lost In Training

Some of Ship's Crew Saved

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Loss of the American submarine R-12 while engaged in training exercises off the east coast of the United States was announced tonight by the Navy Department.

The R-12 had a normal complement of twenty-eight men, but the navy indicated some of these were saved after the sinking. The navy said the loss was probably due to accident and not enemy action.

The sinking, the time of which was placed at "recently," raised to nine the number of United States submarines lost since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor either through enemy action or accident.

The navy's announcement said: "A number of officers and men were unable to escape from the vessel before it sank. The depth of water makes it impossible to salvage the submarine and hope has been abandoned for recovery of the bodies of the missing personnel. The next of kin have been informed . . .

"Announcement of this incident was withheld until attempts to locate and raise the R-12 were discontinued, in order that enemy submarines might not be given infor-

Says Conditions Perfect for "Pasting" Italy

BOSTON, June 25 (AP).—A prediction that Allied airmen will give Italy "a hammering such as no country has ever received before" came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, who has returned from a tour of war coverage in the Middle Eastern and North African theatres.

"Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said.

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front. It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the Axis' Achilles Heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2,500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the Axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

Germans Poison 1,000 Patients

MOSCOW, June 25 (AP).—A Russian commission charged tonight that the Germans had poisoned 1,000 patients in a psychiatric hospital, executed and tortured 348 citizens of Kupyansk and plundered the Rostov Museum in their invasion of Soviet territory.

A 2,000-word report issued by the "extraordinary state commission for ascertaining and investigation of crimes committed by the German Fascist invaders," said it had received statements of victims and eyewitness accounts of "crimes committed by German authorities in Soviet districts which temporarily fell under the Fascist yoke."

"In the village of Sapagovo in the Kursk region, German occupationists poisoned about 1,000 patients who were undergoing treatment at a psychiatric hospital," said the report which was distributed by Tass News Agency.

The reports said that after the Germans had been driven out of the town of Kupyansk in the Kharkov region, "local residents discovered eight pits into which had been dumped 248 brutally tortured to death or shot Soviet citizens."

The report named the German officers the commission held responsible for the crimes.

Heroic British Raiders in Burma

Weak from sickness and wounds, this British raiding party, working 200 miles behind the Japanese lines in Burma, is brought back by an R.A.F. plane working out of Assam. First thing when the plane took off was to pass around the water. The men had done a brave job behind the Japanese lines blowing up trains and supply depots and harassing the enemy.

Bonnet Asserts Unity of French Now Completed

Hopes for Early Recognition by U.S. and Britain of De Gaulle-Giraud Committee

ALGIERS, June 25 (AP).—Henri Bonnet, Minister of Information in the De Gaulle-Giraud committee, said at his first press conference today that French unity is complete and asserted that only minor details in connection with the new Empire Government remain to be settled.

He said he "hoped" for early recognition of the regime as a trustee government by Great Britain and the United States. He talked at length with United States officials on that subject during his recent visit to Washington, he said.

While there are no definite indications of recognition now, he said he believed these would come as soon as the last problems confronting the Committee of National Liberation are solved.

Discussing the problem of merging the respective armed forces of Generals Charles De Gaulle and Henri Giraud, the new minister said a permanent commission is in the process of formation, and the plans which have been worked out "certainly will work."

Earlier, the committee received a report from Colonial Minister Rene Pievens saying that food conditions of Martinique and Guadeloupe were steadily deteriorating. The Caribbean islands ruled by Admiral George Robert remain outside the jurisdiction of French authorities fighting alongside the Allies.

The United States severed relations with Martinique last April and Secretary Cordell Hull said the navy was keeping watch there. Supplies subsequently have diminished.

Bomber Raids Enemy Convoy

Scores Near Miss on Japanese Vessel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 26 (Saturday) (CP).—A Beaufort bomber scored a near miss on a merchantman in a small Japanese convoy off Cape St. George yesterday, the High Command announced.

Cape St. George is on the southeastern tip of New Ireland.

"One of our medium bombers on reconnaissance attacked a cargo vessel in an escorted enemy convoy of three small ships, scoring a near miss," the communique said.

In a report of extremely limited activity, the communique told of a sweep by medium bombers southwest of Madang, New Guinea, where five Japanese-held villages were strafed from treetop height. Native structures were set afire and a machine-gun post silenced.

Nazis Beaten Off in Bitter New Fighting

Action Resumed on The Kalinin Front

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Resumption of local but bitter fighting on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, in which the Germans were hurled from a settlement and three times beaten off as they counter-attacked, was reported tonight by the Soviet Command, along with sharp air activity in several areas.

About Kalinin, said the midnight Soviet communique recorded here by the Soviet radio monitor, 600 Nazi troops were killed and six enemy mortars and two wireless stations were captured, along with other material.

Soviet scouting was reported on the front west of Moscow, where Russian infantry and artillery fire destroyed about a company of Germans and silenced several Nazi mortar and artillery batteries.

Aloft, announcements both by the Soviet Command and the Moscow radio told of the destruction of six German planes in the south—in the Lisichansk sector and west of Rostov—and of heavy Russian raids on Nazi airdromes and railway junctions at Orsha and Karachev, in which "a large number" of German planes were destroyed.

Orsha is about 250 miles northwest of Orel, and Karachev is behind the Orel front, where for weeks there has been intermittent activity suggesting the preparation of major action by one side or the other.

Yard Painters Strike Ended

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Painters in three Vancouver shipyards returned to work tonight, ending a sit-down strike which started midnight, Thursday, when the men protested against refusal of the National War Labor Board to grant their request for a wage increase. They will continue to work under existing contracts pending a conference of union officials, representatives of the companies involved and the Department of Labor.

The men, members of the Painters and Decorators' Union, Local 38 (A.F.L.), asked for at least $1.10 an hour for spray work. Existing contracts provide for eighty cents an hour for brush work and ninety-five cents an hour for spray painters.

Union officials said the strike, involving 84 men, was unauthorized.

FINED $200 AND JAILED

MONTREAL, June 25 (CP).—Joseph Henry Duperron today was fined $200 and sentenced to three months in jail on ten charges of accepting money and otherwise interfering with the application of compulsory military training regulations. He was charged with operating a small office alongside the military registration office in a Montreal district and receiving money from recruits for "giving notices, opinions, making declarations re acts."

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1943, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, June 26.—New tactics by the Royal Air Force has enabled it to bomb Germany on the outward journey from Britain to North Africa, and Italy on the way home.

This is the unique feat in air war to date. Lancasters, without loss to themselves, wrecked acres at Friedrichshafen, where German radio-location factories are situated, and then, after landing at North Africa, returned across Italy and smashed docks at Spezia, where part of the Italian fleet is in refuge.

The achievement, says The Times' aeronautical correspondent, saved a return journey from Germany over hundreds of miles of heavily defended territory and reduced flying time as well as vulnerability to night fighter attack during the short night.

It is particularly important, says The Times' correspondent, with the battle of the Ruhr nearing its climax, that the Royal Air Force should be able to penetrate so far into Germany and destroy the radio-location factory at the time when the Nazis are doing their utmost to strengthen their defences, especially in the direction of detecting hostile machines.

* * *

Hardly anything else is talked about in Germany now, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent, except the devastation wrought by British bombers. Even fear of invasion has given place to fear of the ever-present menace from the air.

For months Germans had been told about the immense strength of the coastal defences of Europe. Now they've had a bitter awakening in the discovery that hundreds of aircraft can fly over these defences and smash German cities into ruin night after night.

Goebbels has just had another propaganda conference with party officials and heads of the Luftwaffe, including General Milch.

The housing shortage has become acute throughout Germany owing to a million or more buildings being bombed out of existence. Hundreds of thousands of refugees who are unwelcome elsewhere are forcibly placed in other German homes as the only available means of finding them accommodation.

* * *

Reports of disorders in German towns, says The Times' correspondent, are untrue, but there is no doubt transport and war production have suffered heavily as well as the people's fighting spirit.

Much more, however, has yet to be done before the Royal Air Force has completed its work in Western Germany. Knowledge that worse is ahead has filled the Nazi press with excuses for German brutalities in warfare. A pose of injured innocence and of the necessity of acting ruthlessly in conquered countries is now the central propaganda theme, doubtless to assure the German people their sufferings are no fault of Hitler and his associates.

"Anyone who lives in a bombed-out area," says one West German newspaper, "listens with disgust to those who still glorify war with bombastic words." Obviously some Germans are learning war does not pay.

De Valera to Convene Dail

Will Nominate Prime Minister of Eire

DUBLIN, June 26 (CP) — Prime Minister Eamon de Valera, whose Fianna Fail lost a working majority in the Dail in Eire's first wartime election, said tonight that the new Dail would be convened at the earliest practical moment to nominate a Prime Minister — a post which De Valera has held for eleven years.

He declined to make any statement on the set-backs suffered by his party.

The nomination of a Prime Minister, he said, would determine the Government to be in office and the policy to be followed.

The country has to settle down at once to the problems ahead, he added, listing them as constant vigilance in defence and production to the limit of capacity of things necessary to the well-being of the community.

William T. Cosgrave, leader of the Fine Gael, expressed disappointment in the election which, he said, "does not give satisfaction to any political party."

APPARENTLY DISSATISFIED WITH GOVERNMENT

Cosgrave, whose party's representation in the Dail dropped from forty-five to thirty-two, added: "There appears to be a very big vote against the Government. The electorate is apparently dissatisfied with the policy which has been pursued.

Overnight Raid on Germany Rounds Out Week of Heavy Attacks on Enemy Centres

Report More Than 5,000,000 Persons Evacuated From Ruhr

LONDON, June 26 (Saturday) (CP).—The R.A.F. bombed Germany again last night, rounding out a week of Allied heavy air attacks on Germany, Italy and German-occupied Europe.

The R.A.F.'s Friday night objectives were not immediately identified.

The bombers continued their around-the-clock forays after fleets of United States heavy bombers pounded nonrthwestern Germany in daylight attacks Friday.

It was the seventh night of the current aerial offensive which began last Saturday night with the R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. smash at the Schneider Armament Works at Le Creusot, 170 miles southeast of Paris.

The same forces delivered another town-crusher attack Thursday night upon the bomb-shattered Ruhr industrial valley where upwards of 5,000,000 people were reported evacuated to escape the air offensive.

The big United States bombers hammered undisclosed targets in adverse weather against strong fighter opposition and lost eighteen ships for a total of 173 Allied bombers, at the cost of more than six days and nights of tremendous attacks. The R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. lost 136 and the Americans thirty-eight.

United States heavy bombers made up at least part of the raiding force and from one station alone destroyed twenty-four enemy fighters and probably fourteen more. This group lost six bombers.

Crewmen said today's attack was made in the worst weather and against the fiercest fighter opposition they had encountered in six raids. The Germans, they said, sent 200 fighters against them.

POSSIBLY 1,500 TONS DROPPED

The daylight assault followed the renewed R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack with perhaps 1,500 tons of bombs upon Wuppertal in the Ruhr. Bombs were concentrated upon Elberfeld, in the western section of the amalgamated city with its chemical and textile targets.

In Berne, Switzerland, a reliable source declared the Ruhr raids had forced the Germans to move 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 non-essential workers and citizens from the Ruhr to safer areas with the "last enterprise" still underway. Zurich's Die Tat declared that the battle for the Ruhr "appears approaching a climax."

Nazi-Held Greece Is New Target

U.S. Heavy Bombers Blast Sedes Air Base

CAIRO, June 25 (AP).—American heavy bombers have raided the big German airdrome of Sedes, near Salonika, a major air base in the Nazis' "Siegfried Line" in Greece, and found surprisingly weak anti-aircraft defences.

United States Air Headquarters here announced today that more than fifty bombers dropped more than 125 tons of bombs at Sedes yesterday without a single loss. It was the first American blow at German-held Greece since September.

"Direct hits were scored on three hangars and all are believed to have been destroyed," said a Ninth United States Air Force communique.

"Dispersal areas were covered by bursts and at least three enemy aircraft were seen to be destroyed. Administrative buildings northeast of the hangars received hits and several strings of bombs criss-crossed the field itself.

"Oil fires were observed west and south of the hangars and grey and black smoke covered the target area when the bombers departed.

"No enemy fighting opposition was encountered.

"All our aircraft returned safely."

POSTERS CARRY MESSAGES FOR GREEKS

Not bombs and fire alone, but hundreds of thousands of posters were dropped over several cities with encouraging messages for the Greek people.

Announcements from Malta and North Africa disclosed that Allied planes based under those commands also had been active.

Malta fighter bombers and British naval air squadrons attacked war plants at Pozzalla in Sicily and objectives at Augusta, Sicily. A German plane was shot down.

Medium and fighter bombers of the Africa Command attacked several targets in Sardinia and Wellington bombers concentrated on Catania in Sicily. In all these operations of the Africa force, twenty enemy planes were shot down to nine Allied planes lost.

Fined $3,000 on Liquor Charges

EDMONTON, June 25 (CP).—Louis Davidson, of New York, was fined $2,000 on a charge of being in possession of unlawfully imported liquor and $1,000 on a charge of "clandestinely bringing into Canada goods subject to duty," when he appeared in police court today before Magistrate A. I. Millar.

Arrested June 16 as he was about to board a plane, Davidson had faced eleven charges in connection with liquor which police found in his trunks, and had been released on bail of $5,000. Nine of the charges were withdrawn.

King Will Issue New Decorations

LONDON, June 26 (Saturday) (CP).—The King, in a message to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in North Africa, announced today his decision to issue two new decorations—the Africa Star to the "Victors of North Africa" and the 1939-1943 star "to all services who have fought in other theatres." The new decorations are the first to be issued since the George Cross and the George Medal in 1940.

Meeting of C.B.C. Board Here Aug. 11

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—R. Rowe Holland, a governor of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said on arrival here today from Ottawa that the regular August meeting of the board of governors will be held here August 10 and in Victoria the following day.

He added that those attending will include: Rene Morin, chairman, General Manager Dr. J. S. Thompson and Donald Manson, secretary of the board. Governors who will attend include Very Rev. Dean Fuller, of Saskatoon; Wilfred Godfrey, K.C., Nova Scotia; Dean Poulin, Quebec; L. Charleson, Ontario; H. Chaee, Quebec; Mrs. Mary Sutherland, Revelstoke, B.C., and Mr. Holland.

Japanese Ship Losses Severe

Yards Rush Work on New Wooden Vessels

CHUNGKING, June 25 (AP).—The Japanese, to counteract serious shipping loses, are building large numbers of wooden ships to handle their coastal trade with occupied territories, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

He told a press conference that intelligence reports revealed the shortage of enemy ships was so acute that shipyards at Singapore, Hongkong and other ports were working overtime to turn out the wooden vessels.

He also reported that a growing need for manpower had caused the Japanese to order home for military training all their civilians in China aged eighteen to forty.

Canadian Bombers Take Part In Heavy Raids on Ruhr Area

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Canadian bombers based on Britain took part in heavy attacks on the Schneider armament works at Le Creusot, Krefeld, on the western outskirts of the Ruhr, and Mulheim, in the Ruhr, where steel works, a coke oven and by-product plants are located.

Considerable damage was done in these raids, said the weekly communique issued by Air Force Headquarters on behalf of Air Marshal Harold (Gus) Edwards, air officer commanding-in-chief of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

Losses suffered by Canadian squadrons during the week were eighteen bombers and eight fighters. Five enemy aircraft were destroyed.

While Canadian bombers were busy in the three major attacks of the week, fighters carried out attacks on railway targets and barges, raided enemy airfields, and helped cover bombers returning from operations over Europe.

DESTROY THREE ENEMY FIGHTERS

R.C.A.F. Spitfires destroyed three enemy fighters during offensive sweeps over Belgium a week ago Thursday afternoon. On Saturday Spitfires damaged railway targets and barges in The Netherlands and an R.C.A.F. Mosquito shared in destruction of an enemy flying boat in the Bay of Biscay. The following day an enemy fighter was destroyed by R.C.A.F. Spitfires while they were covering Boston bombers which attacked the enemy airfield at Poix.

Tuesday morning some Canadian Spitfire squadrons escorted R.A.F. Mitchell bombers in an attack on the docks and shipyards at Rotterdam, while others helped cover the withdrawal of United States Army Air Force Flying Fortresses from a raid on the synthetic rubber works at Huls, in the Ruhr. In the afternoon Canadian Spitfires covered and supported Ventura bombers in an attack on the airfield at Abbeville, and later they escorted Beaufighters of the Coastal Command which successfully attacked an enemy convoy off the Dutch coast.

CARRY OUT OFFENSIVE PATROLS

Wednesday evening R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadrons escorted Boston bombers which attacked targets at Mesulte and Thursday morning escorted Venturas to Flushing.

"On six nights of the week R.C.A.F. fighters carried out offensive patrols over France and Holland, damaging many railway targets and attacking enemy airfields," the communique said.

"Hampdens of an R.C.A.F. Coastal Command squadron attacked an enemy convoy off the coast of Northern France in the early hours of Friday morning. Other R.C.A.F. squadrons of the Coastal Command have carried out anti-shipping and anti-submarine patrols."

About 20,000 More Miners Go On Strike

Quarter Million Now Idle in the U.S.

PITTSBURGH, June 25 (AP).—At least 20,000 additional miners quit work today, making about one half of the United States' 521,000 coal workers idle, as four more steel blast furnaces were closed, increasing to fourteen the number down in the Pittsburgh area due to fuel shortage.

The rank and file of the United Mine Workers, already in heated debate over their policy committee's instructions to return to work without a contract or their demanded extra pay for underground travel, were further excited by President Roosevelt's statement that he did not accept the October 31 work deadline set by the committee.

The United States Steel Corporation announced it had been forced to shut down four more furnaces and slow down operation of its huge by-product coke plant at Clairton, Pa., near Pittsburgh, from 70 per cent of capacity to 50 per cent. Fourteen of its thirty-seven furnaces in the district are closed.

BULLETINS

PLOT AGAINST GOEBBELS

LONDON, June 26 (Saturday) (CP).—The B.B.C. said today in a German news service broadcast that Paul Joseph Goebbels, Nazi Propaganda Minister, recently had canceled an important visit to Alsace because of reports that there was a plot to assassinate him.

TWELVE BELIEVED KILLED

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla., June 25 (AP).—Sheriff J. F. Hall, of Clay County, said he had received a report that a United States Navy plane crashed in the St. John's River near here today with the apparent loss of twelve lives. The sheriff said additional details are not available and that the navy is investigating.

Veto Killed

tered the war and which had aroused public opinion.

It was designed to clip the wings of organized labor in wartime and received most of its support from Southern congressmen, long branded as anti-labor.

Known as the Conally-Harness-Smith Bill, it has been denounced by labor leaders as intended to "crucify labor" and as the "worst example of anti-labor legislation passed by Congress in a century."

The measure, hammered out by the legislators during the strikes by John L. Lewis' coal miners, was rejected by Mr. Roosevelt on the grounds that some of its provisions would foment rather than deter strikes.

Mr. Roosevelt asked that Congress give him instead the authority to induct persons up to age sixty-five for non-combat military service—an authority which would allow strikers to be put into army uniform and sent back to work.

The legislators bowled over the veto with breath-taking speed, completing action on the measure scarcely two hours after the President's message reached the capitol.

TERMS OF NEW DISPUTES ACT

The terms of the new War Labor Disputes Act:

Give statutory authority for the President to seize war facilities.

Provide for maintenance of existing terms and conditions of employment except as directed by the War Labor Board.

Provide fines up to $5,000 and imprisonment for up to one year for persons instigating or aiding a strike in a Government-operated war facility.

Give statutory authority to the War Labor Board which was created by executive order of the President.

All these provisions the President said he approved, adding that broadly speaking they incorporated into statute "the existing machinery for settling labor disputes."

Of the proposed criminal penalties for instigating a strike in a Government-operated plant, he said:

"This would make possible the arrest of a few leaders who would give bond for their appearance at trial. It would assure punishment for those found guilty and might also have some deterrent effect. But it would not assure continuance of war production in the most critical emergencies."

RAISES OBJECTIONS TO OTHER SECTIONS

Then he raised objections to the other sections of the bill which:

Require notice to Government labor agencies when a labor dispute exists which threatens to interrupt war production.

Direct that within thirty days after such notice the National Labor Relations Board conduct a secret ballot election among the affected workers to determine whether they wish to strike.

Forbid wartime political contributions by labor organizations.

"Far from discouraging strikes," Mr. Roosevelt said, the requirements for notice of a dispute's existence and a strike ballot "would stimulate labor unrest and give Government sanction to strike agitations.

"It would force a labor leader who is trying to prevent a strike in accordance with his no-strike pledge to give the notice which would cause the taking of a strike ballot and might actually precipitate a strike," he said.

Holding elections, he declared, "would open the whole controversy over 'bargaining units,' a fruitful source of controversy and of bitter jurisdictional strife."

"The thirty days allowed before the strike vote is taken under Government auspices might well become a boiling period instead of a cooling period. The thought and energies of the workers would be diverted from war production to vote-getting."

As for the section dealing with labor political contributions, Mr. Roosevelt commented:

"If there be merit in the prohibition, it should not be confined to wartime, and careful consideration should be given to the appropriateness of extending the prohibition to other non-profit organizations."

BELIEVED FIRST OVERRIDING DURING WAR

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Legislative reference sources said tonight that so far as they could recall today was the first time a Congress ever had overriden a presidential veto during wartime.

Six votes by Woodrow Wilson were overridden while he was President, but all were during a time when the country was not at war, the sources said.

In the memory of those at the Capitol, today's action was the fastest overriding of a veto by both branches of Congress.

President Philip Murray, of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, said tonight "absentee congresmen must share the blame for a major national disaster" in the congressional overturning of President Roosevelt's veto of the War Labor Disputes Act. He predicted popular resentment over the congressional action will bring about repeal of the measure.

Utilities Meeting To Be Held Soon

Returning from Vancouver, where he met President W. G. Murrin, of the B.C. Electric, with whom he made arrangements for a further conference upon the proposed purchase of the company's properties, Premier Hart stated yesterday that a second meeting would be held next week, probably in Victoria.

Since a great many interests and factors are involved, it is possible that several preliminary meetings will be held before a definite proposition is brought to the point of negotiation, but, within a reasonable time, said Mr. Hart, all proposals and counter-proposals should be clarified and ready for submission to the municipalities for their approval or suggestions.

Committee Named to Find Cause of Riots

DETROIT, June 25 (AP).—Officials of this troop-guarded city moved today to identify basic causes of the race rioting that swept Detroit Streets Monday and to seek means of eradicating them.

As a fact-finding committee reported to Governor Harry F. Kelly lack of any evidence that the violence was planned or designed or inspired by any enemy influence, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., appointed a twelve-member study committee and instructed it:

"To assemble immediately such data as may be available to formulate such programmes as they think advisable, and to make such recommendations as their information and experience may dictate."

U.S. SUBMARINE LOST

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Loss of the submarine R-12 while engaged in training exercises off the East Coast was announced tonight by the United States Navy. The R-12 had a normal complement of twenty-eight men but the navy indicated some of these were saved after the sinking. The navy said the loss probably was due to accident and not enemy action.

Large Still Is Discovered At Vancouver

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—One of the largest illicit stills ever set up here, complete with pressure gauges, steam chambers and three 30-gallon boilers, has been found in a basement in the heart of downtown Vancouver, Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today.

[illegible] been made when the still was located but 120 gallons of mash stood nearby, apparently ready for immediate distillation. Sergt. Mervyn Ashby said apparently the operators planned to manufacture spirits without sugar by extracting glucose from grain under high steam pressure.

Joseph Smith, forty-three, and Clifford L. Spicer, thirty-six, were charged with possession of a still for manufacture of illicit liquor.

Warns Bombs May Fall on Province Soon

Mainwaring Thinks Danger in Summer

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Before Summer is over "enemy bombs and incendiaries may well fall on British Columbia targets," W. C. Mainwaring, chairman of the Advisory Council, Civilian Protection Committee, said today in an interview warning both the public and A.R.P. personnel against apathy.

"June to September, when the woods become tinder-dry, is the time enemy action is more to be expected and feared," said Mr. Mainwaring, who has just returned from a conference with Federal authorities at Ottawa. "Fire, of course, would be the most feared result of raids during the Summer months, and we may as well face facts."

DOES NOT EXPECT HEAVY BOMBINGS

Mr. Mainwaring said he did not anticipate heavy bombing attacks, but said "suicidal" raids might be made by aircraft flying direct from Kiska, with other possibilities of nuisance raids, mainly of incendiary nature, from seaplanes flying from submarines, and long range seaplane bombing from Kiska or even farther, using a chain of submarines as refuelling bases.

The A.R.P. chief said the fog-bank which developed off the West Coast during the Summer months "would provide a splendid hiding-place for carriers to manoeuvre in while releasing bombers or awaiting their return."

Mr. Mainwaring said the Government recognized civil defence "as a necessary and integral part of defence arrangements in British Columbia."

He said the policy of issuing gas masks on a paid basis and free to those unable to pay will remain unchanged.

Family Garage and Car Lost in Fire

Called at 12:28 a.m. Saturday to the home of David Randall, plumber, 2815 Shakespeare Street, the city fire department fought stubbornly to save the family garage and a car therein contained. Apparently, however, the blaze had gained too much headway and both the garage and the car were destroyed.

Gets Long Sentence

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP).—Helmut Leiner, thirty-four, a German gardener who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging trading with the enemy after an earlier treason indictment had been dismissed, was sentenced to eighteen years Federal imprisonment today.

Leiner acknowledged aiding Edward John Kerling, one of the Nazi saboteurs who landed on American shores a year ago, by changing two $50 bills given him by Kerling. Kerling later was executed.

Of Use of Sawdust as Fuel Called by Death

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Archibald Moore Campbell, fifty-eight, president of Campbell Motors Ltd., and credited with originating the use of sawdust fuel in Vancouver, died while on a fishing trip at Williams Lake, Wednesday. He started a sawdust supply business here in 1927.

Convene Dail

"It will be in the interests of everyone if the Government would seek co-operation from business people. In the new Dail I hope to see more attention paid to national questions and less to party politics."

Cosgrave gave no clue to his plans for the Fine Gael.

The Fianna Fail won sixty-seven—as against seventy-seven won in 1938, losing a majority to the combined opposition, which took seventy-one of the 138 seats in the Dail.

Cosgrave campaigned for a wartime Coalition Government composed of all parties. The Prime Minister said he would not join such a Government.

The leaders of the minor parties have not publicly committed themselves to any set policy.

HELENA, Mont., June 25 (AP).—Helena residents experienced two sharp earth shocks today, one at 4:20 p.m., the other at 6:56. Both were of between one and two seconds duration. No damage was reported.

Roosevelt Strong For Second Front

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today he is just as strong as the Russians are for a second front and that everybody is agreed on that issue.

Reporters reminded him at a press conference that the Russian Government again had raised its voice in a demand for a second front, and he said that his was just as strong as theirs. He did not amplify his statement.

Perry Takes Over Prince Rupert Paper

PRINCE RUPERT, June 25 (CP).—Hon. H. G. Perry, publisher of the Prince George Citizen and Minister of Education for British Columbia, has acquired the controlling interest in the Prince Rupert Daily News from the estate of the late Henry F. Pullen. The transaction was completed today.

Under the new control of ownership of The Daily News there will be no change of policy or management, it is announced.

With Mr. Perry as president of the company, G. A. Hunter will continue as managing editor and no changes in the staff personnel are contemplated.

Mr. Perry has been identified with business and public affairs of Northern and Central British Columbia for thirty-two years.

Wins New Trial In Appeal Court

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—John Milton, fifty-five, today won a new trial from Court of Appeal on the ground that his counsel, A. G. D. Crux, has found new evidence in his favor which was not available at Victoria Spring Assizes where he was found guilty with Bert Tully of retaining stolen money and sentenced to two years, less a day.

"There is a possibility that he might be innocent if this evidence is accepted by a jury," said Chief Justice D. A. McDonald, who declared he had read carefully and been impressed by the material submitted by Mr. Crux. He suggested Milton's case be heard at the opening of the Vancouver Fall Assizes, the first available court.

Tully was given three years, and a third accused, George Stedman, was acquitted. The money involved in the case was contained in three postal parcels and was alleged to be the bulk of a $458 burglary of a Safeway store in Victoria.

Prices High When No Ceiling Fixed

An example of what happens when there is no price control, as in Newfoundland, is cited by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

G. H. Rennie, prices and supply representative, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Toronto, recently addressed a conference of retail merchants at St. Catharines, and he gave some current Newfoundland prices, which have no ceiling.

Here are his quotations compared with today's prices for similar goods in Victoria, also on an island. The Newfoundland price is given first, Victoria price second:

Beef, pound, $1.05; 50c (sirloin roast); select eggs, dozen, $1.20, 48c; butter, pound, $1.25, 40c; milk, pint, 22c, 11c; grapefruit, each, 25c, 10c; canned corn, tin, 25c, 25c (20-oz. tin); cheese, pound, 65c, 35c-42c; Shredded Wheat, package, 22c, 11c.

Women in War Work Doubled

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 25 (CP).—The number of women engaged directly or indirectly in Canadian war work has risen from 120,000 last June to 255,000 this month, said Miss Rene Morin, of the National Selective Service, Ottawa, in addressing the Maritime Conference on Industrial Relations today.

Germany Raided

to save the remains of the Ruhr, the Germans were reported by the Air Ministry news service to have pushed their outer ring of defences to the North Sea coast.

British crews said coastal defences were "obviously strengthened," but that there was "a far more intense struggle in the Ruhr itself." There, huge belts of searchlights and guns were pressed into action last night, and one pilot said he counted nine cones of thirty to forty searchlights each.

MANY NIGHT FIGHTERS OUT

The R.A.F. reported many night fighters out, and the American raiders today encountered fierce attacks by swarms of German defenders, diving on the bombers in relays.

Today the Germans were benefitted by bad weather, which made observation of the target difficult, Eighth Air Force Headquarters said.

The Germans again tried to knock out the American raiders by flying above and dropping bombs on them.

An Air Ministry communique said the attack on Wuppertal was "nearly as heavy as that recently made upon Barmen, the eastern half of Wuppertal," when a saturation raid on May 29 with 1,500 tons or more of bombs virtually wiped out that industrial section.

"From preliminary reports great damage appears to have been done," the Air Ministry said.

Last opportunity. Today, till 9 p.m., Rose, Flower Show, Crystal Garden.

No Hope of More Coffee

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—A Prices Board spokesman said here that there was no prospect whatever that the present Canadian coffee ration of four ounces a week per person would be increased.

He was commenting upon an announcement by the Office of Price Administration at Washington that the coffee ration in the United States will be raised to one pound per person every three weeks, starting [illegible] the United States coffee ration higher than the Canadian.

Canada's coffee stocks are said adequate to meet present rationing requirements, but no substantial surplus has been built up.

Three Hundred Competitors at Colorful Display

Features of the twentieth annual Spring Show of the Victoria Horticultural Society, held in the Crystal Garden yesterday, was a display of flowers and vegetables grown by the old-timers of the association, and tables loaded with gleaming, velvety roses.

Besides the non-competitive entries of the "old-timers," there are over 300 competitors in the Rose Show, the biggest in years, which continues today, ending with an auction of all flowers. A complimentary exhibit from "the City of Victoria" of flowers grown in Beacon Hill Park, occupies part of one table, which is a riot of blooms, most noticeable of which are compact buds of the Royal Visit, a beautiful rose, and Shot Silk, a deep lustrous rose that is exactly what its name suggests.

Another enticing display is a table of tuberous-rooted rare begonias, grown by Donald Gurney, centred by a single-flowered flame variety that is a compact mass of deep green leaves and countless blooms over two feet across; a single flower of the rare coppery "Crystata" begonia is among the other rich plants.

Winners of the show were announced late in the evening by Alderman D. D. McTavish, secretary; Mrs. R. H. Ludbrook won the grand aggregate award of the show and will receive the Naysmith Challenge Cup and a Royal Horticultural Society Medal, while an exhibit by a newcomer, H. F. Willcher, was selected the champion rose of the show. This exceptional bloom was a velvety apricot flower veined in flame, called Mrs. G. A. Rossem.

Runners-up for the grand aggregate were Mrs. Charles Lee and Mrs. Angus McKay, while Mrs. W. E. A. Barclay won the R. A. Nicholson Trophy for the best exhibit in the cut flower section.

Prizes for the best garden displays went to Mrs. R. H. Ludbrook and Mrs. W. Goddard; first place for the pot plant display was awarded to a veteran exhibitor, J. Naysmith. Decorated table winners were Mrs. B. Willoughby and Mrs. Angus McKay.

OVER 300 COMPETITORS

Over 300 competitors entered flowers, mostly roses, in this show which is the largest in many years, besides which a number of complimentary exhibits of flowers and vegetables and pot plants help to make the tables a glorious array of color and grace.

One splendid feature in the non-competitive exhibits is the table covered with flowers and produce from the gardens of old-timers of fifteen to twenty years' membership in the club. R. Battison, charter member, showed peonies; W. H. Warren, another charter member and now parks superintendent, had several entries; George Little, twenty-one years a member, holding the record for prizes won, had an array of firsts and seconds won in the past seldom equalled; J. Naysmith, member for seventeen years and holding the record of eighty-four points won at a single show, contributed a beautiful potted fuchsia.

Mrs. J. A. Hibberson, member for nineteen years, had some outstanding mauve and blue delphiniums, Albert Smith, member for nineteen years and now head gardener for the School Board, showed some outstanding cauliflowers and other vegetables; A. Tyrell, nineteen years a member, had a fine collection of vegetables framed in moss. Others contributing were Mr. and Mrs. R. Harness, seventeen years in the society, and first winners of the Banksian Medal; W. R. Nichols, eighteen years a valued member; Angus McKay, an old-time member; Mrs. E. W. Darcus, eighteen years a member; and H. O. Simpson, member for fifteen years and present president.

The home cooking stall had sold out early in the day and promises to have a good assortment of cooking and vegetables for sale today when all the flowers in the show will be auctioned.

Chicago Rookie In Bat Streak

CLEVELAND, June 25 (AP).—Guy Paxton Curtright, rookie Chicago outfielder, who waited until he was thirty before he made the majors, dismissed his flashy batting streak today with the comment, "I'm hitting over my head."

Going into tonight's game with at least one hit in his last twenty consecutive games and a sizzling .356 average, the White Sox' blond right-hander explained, "I've been getting the breaks. Every time I've hit the ball hard it's been right in there, between the fielders."

After a long career in the lower minors, Curtright went up to St. Paul last season and lined thirteen home runs while hitting .291, and was purchased by the Chisox.

Ortiz Wins by Technical Kayo

HOLLYWOOD, June 25 (AP).—Manuel Ortiz, world bantamweight champion, scored a technical knock-out over Tony Olivera, of San Francisco, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round bout tonight.

It was the first time in forty-eight starts that Olivera had been knocked out and his corner claimed the blow that ended the fight was low. Referee Charley Randolph disallowed the claim.

Ortiz' title was not at stake as the boys came in at 120 pounds, over the bantam limit.

Jockey Shaken Up

WINNIPEG, June 25 (CP).—Jockey W. H. Young, of California, suffered a bad shaking up when his mount, Erne Castle, fell during the stretch drive in the fifth race at Polo Park today. Young was removed to hospital where attendants said his condition was "good."

Antena, owned by Marks and Rouse, of Lexington, Ky., won the event—the $700 Royal Alexandra Handicap—with Celebrate second and Sahara Chief, owned by Mrs. F. Beban, of Northfield, B.C., third. Erne Castle was running fourth when the mishap occurred.

The daily double was worth $112.26 when Norman Nadi won the first race and Patsia the second.

Pepper Pot and Some Yank, finished first and second in the seventh, for a quinella payoff of $35.25.

Ruth Says Game To Be Casualty

CLEVELAND, June 25 (AP).—Major league baseball will become a war casualty in 1944—if not sooner—says Babe Ruth, home run king of the 20's and 30's.

"I have a hunch that baseball won't survive the current season," the former Yankee told an interviewer last night. "The life of the old sport depends on how long club owners are willing to lose money. It's a cinch they won't open the ball park gates next year."

Government to Set Up Labor Pool at Halifax

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Labor Minister Mitchell told the House of Commons tonight it was the Government's intention to set up a pool of labor at Halifax, in the form of 750 men, who will be available for duty as longshoremen where they are needed.

This labor force will be mobile and will be used where it is needed in Eastern Canada. Increased speed in the "turnabout" of ships entering Canadian ports was equivalent to building new ships, the minister said.

The men in the labor pool will be paid longshoremen's wages for a forty-hour week and may be used in ports other than Halifax when needed.

The men will be provided with housing accommodation and will be used in other "avocations or callings" and in longshoremen's duties when needed. Their pay will be on the basis of the longshoreman's wage, which is higher than that paid freight handlers.

The suggestion had been made that longshoremen might be provided by army labor companies, but the Government had felt it would be better to have this reserve of labor on a civilian basis and paid civilian rates of wages.

The mobile force would not be used in loading and unloading ships until the existing longshoremen's organizations has had full opportunity to handle the work.

"They will be used in emergencies and we know we will have men available when needed," said Mr. Mitchell.

The men in the mobile pool could be used for other work in the community when they were not needed as longshoremen.

"It is absolutely necessary to speed the turnabout of ships in Canadian ports, if we can," said Mr. Mitchell.

It was one of the steps being taken by the Labor Department to meet manpower requirements and progressive action to meet labor problems generally would be carried out.

Mr. Mitchell followed Gordon Isnor (Liberal, Halifax), who urged consideration of the value of Halifax as the nearest Canadian port to Britain and said its advantages should be studied when the Government was routing war cargoes overseas.

RIO THEATRE "Just Off Broadway," the latest thriller in 20th Century-Fox's exciting Michael Shayne films, will end tonight at the Rio Theatre. Lloyd Nolan again is starred as the slick sleuth and his romantic interest centres about Marjorie Weaver, who tops a featured cast that includes comedian Phil Silvers and a striking cinema newcomer, Janis Carter.

YORK THEATRE In the picture "You Were Never Lovelier," which will end tonight at the York Theatre, several new Jerome Kern tunes are presented by Xavier Cugat and his orchestra, who are featured with Adolphe Menjou in support of the stars, Rita Hayworth and Fred Astaire. Employed Men Asked to Take On Extra Jobs

Needed Part Time in Many Different Plants

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP)—Vancouver workers will be asked to enroll next month for part-time jobs to meet the drastic labor shortage here, the Vancouver Advisory Board, National Selective Service, announced today.

"There is no suggestion that each person working eight hours a day should enroll for an additional four hours a day daily," F. W. Smelts, chairman of the board, said, "but he might give four hours two or three days a week like they do in the Reserve Army."

Part-time workers will be paid straight time and arrangements will be made so that they do not encroach on overtime work ordinarily done by regular employees.

"Five thousand unskilled and semi-skilled laborers are needed in Vancouver at the present time," Horace Keetch, manager of the Selective Service office, said. "There are 3,000 men needed in the shipyards, 200 in engineering plants, 200 in foundries, 200 in sawmills, 100 in the fuel industry and about seventy-five to 100 in the meat packing industry.

"Another 1,000 are required in semi-essential and essential industries that are somewhat hard to classify. There's hardly a firm in town that is not short of men. We have reached the point where we have little or no men left."

Ernest Mallory on Fishing Expedition

Ernest Mallory, commodore of the Olympia Yacht Club, and commander of the United States coast guard auxiliary flotilla there, was in Victoria yesterday on his way to San Juan where he will spend two weeks fishing. He came to Victoria on his yacht the Pamanus, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Mallory, their son, Kenny, and a friend, Johnny Jones.

He predicted that a coast guard auxiliary system similar to that in the United States might be adopted here, as a result of the visit of Lieut.-Cmdr. Allan Winbeck, Lt. F. L. Morris and others, who were guests of the Vancouver Island Power Boat Squadrons recently.

Explaining the need of such an auxiliary, Mr. Mallory said that the American coast guard auxiliary now did twenty-four-hour duty weekly, and would be prepared to take over in the event of the regulars being called elsewhere.

Mr. Mallory won the 1932 overall race between Victoria and Olympia, and has twice come first in the Puget Sound-Nanaimo motor boat race; he has been a yearly visitor for fourteen years.

SEEK BOATMAN'S BODY

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP)—Police are today dragging the waters off Kitsilano Beach in search of the body of John Joseph Watterson, fifty-nine, of New Westminster, believed to have drowned Thursday after a fall from a sailboat which was found drifting empty two hours after he rented it.

Veteran of Theatre Built Huge Stage for Army Show

One of the toughest jobs in preparing Canada's big Army Show for its coast-to-coast tour was the unromantic, unpublicized job of construction, and the man behind the scenes has a history of theatre work that goes back thirty years.

Like the rest of the show, six-foot Corporal Ernest Gill is in uniform. He's a member of the Veterans' Guard of Canada (Active). But the job he's done, and it includes constructing a portable stage of mammoth proportions, comes from civilian experience that goes back to the old Toronto Opera House days.

In those thirty years Ernie has made a lot of friends in the theatre—people like Sir Martin Harvey, Al Jolson, the Marx Brothers, the Barrymores.

Among his big jobs was the supervision of building the seats for the Maple Leaf Stadium.

Of "The Army Show," he says:

"It poses a lot more problems than we usually meet with in a stage show. You see, we are not only going to be playing in theatres, but also in military camps. That meant we had to design a portable stage that could be assembled rapidly, at the same time making sure it would give the show as much freedom of movement as a theatre stage.

"We have such a stage—and we think it's as good as the show that'll be on it."

The all-soldier revue with its talented comedians and musical comedy performers and its big Army Orchestra comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Tuesday night, and following a two-day stay in this city will continue its coast-to-coast tour.

Pte. Peter Mews explains some of the advantages of the army Summer issue uniforms in the hilarious fashion show in Canada's all-soldier stage revue, "The Army Show," which will play at the Royal Victoria Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday. The model is Pte. Usko Olliviala, of Port Arthur.

Fined for Paying More Than Ceiling Price for Sawdust

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP)—Found guilty of purchasing an article above ceiling price, George Gould, seventy-two, was given a suspended sentence by Police Magistrate G. R. McQueen yesterday. The charge, unusual in that it was laid against the purchaser, arose from a payment of $6.50 made by Gould last Winter for sawdust pegged at $4 per unit.

Gould, who said his house was without fuel at the time, testified a driver whom he had accosted with a request for sawdust had told him "a couple of dollars" would insure delivery and later explained the extra charge was for packing in the fuel.

Msgr. Camille Roy Called by Death in East

QUEBEC, June 25 (CP)—Msgr. Camille Roy, former rector of Laval University, who had been ill in hospital here for several weeks, died Thursday night. He was seventy-three. Well known in the religious, educational, political and literary worlds, Msgr. Roy was one of the outstanding figures of French Canada.

A native of Berthier, Montmagny County, he was the sixteenth child of a family of twenty.

The French Government made him an officer of the Legion of Honor in 1925 and the French Academy awarded him the Gold Medal of the French language.

In 1923, Pope Pius XI elevated him to the prelacy with the title of apostolic prothonotary. He was conferred doctorates in letters, honoris causa, by the Universities of Toronto and Ottawa in 1927 and was elected president of the Royal Society of Canada in 1928.

The same year, he became vicar general of the Archdiocese of Quebec.

INTER-REGIONAL BOMBING

That every stick has two ends was brought home to the Luftwaffe this week by the Royal Air Force, merging German and Italian targets on the outward and homebound voyages of the same formations. This, of course, was what the Luftwaffe tried during one phase of the Battle of Britain, at first to increase its bomb loads, and, finally, to hide from the operating German squadrons how severe were their losses over the United Kingdom. It is inter-regional bombing by long range machines, and not "shuttle" bombing as it has sometimes been called.

The United Nations concurrently are giving a true demonstration of shuttle bombing. The attacks on Sicily, particularly at the Messina ferry terminus, are being operated by machines that load up, bomb their targets, return to the same fields for second, third and even fourth loads, and maintain a shuttle service between drome and target. That it is effective is clearly demonstrated in the mounting toll of destruction in Sicily, Sardinia and Southern Italy, where Axis machines are being progressively grounded.

Inter-regional bombing such as that on Spezia, Italy, and points in southwestern Germany, holds many potentialities for the United Nations. Germany herself can be crossed and recrossed in one-way flights, with alternate landings. No part of Italy is beyond the range. Considerable air strength can be swung now to one region, and then to another, without loss of reserves at any point. It is entirely probable that its use will be extended, and with ramifications that spell trouble for the enemy.

CHINA'S "STALINGRAD"

Only sparse news comes through on the cable to this side of the world of China's grim battle against the Japanese, but enough is known to show that all the enemy's attempts to liquidate this "incident" in the world struggle are proving unavailing. On May 18 the Japanese launched a drive westward along the Yangtze, in Western Hupeh. The battle that developed was called "The Chinese battle of Stalingrad" by the High Command at Chungking. Within two days the enemy was forced into retreat towards Ichang and Ilu. The Japanese used six divisions and two independent brigades in the offensive. According to the correspondent of The Times, London, at Chungking, the Chinese employed "magnetic strategy," drawing the enemy into prepared positions in the Hsipei fortifications west of Ichang. A Chinese army spokesman describing what happened gives the following version.

"The Chinese refused to accept battle in the Tungting Lake area, where the enemy was able to use launches and other transport for communications, and instead withdrew to the mountains south and west of Ichang, where the enemy was unable to use artillery and tanks. Close collaboration between the Chinese and Allied air forces resulted in virtual air control of that region, and the Japanese were subjected to heavy punishment. Finally 'puppet' troops, brought up by the Japanese for garrison duty, deserted, and gave the Chinese vital information concerning the enemy's strength and military dispositions. The turning point of the battle was the Japanese failure to storm the Hsipei forts, nine miles west of Ichang, where the defenders received orders to hold on to the last man—hence the name 'the Chinese battle of Stalingrad.' After the recapture of Yuyangkwan, on May 29, a Chinese column thrust north-westward endeavoring to trap five enemy divisions which were being cut up and destroyed piecemeal."

Of the result of the battle The Times' correspondent says: "While some foreign observers are inclined to believe that Chinese casualty claims are exceptionally large, all are agreed that the Chinese have won a distinct victory in Hupeh and Hunan, and that the threatened drive to Chungking—if such was the Japanese intention—is now definitely averted, at least for the present."

INEQUITABLE LICENCE FEES

The same contention that has been advanced in this and other provinces of Canada, that there should be a reduction in licence fees for motor cars on the ground that, because of the gasoline shortage and rationing they can now be used less, is also advanced in Great Britain. There is there a Motor Legislation Committee whose constituent bodies include the Royal Automobile Club, the Royal Scottish Automobile Club and the Automobile Association. In a statement made on its behalf, signed by its chairman and secretary, attention is drawn to what is described as "a serious defect" in the taxation system which has developed as a result of wartime conditions. There is both the hardship inflicted on taxpayers and the larger question of principle. Here is the statement:

"The facts are simple. Motor cars and motorcycles are taxed on a basis which formerly permitted the unlimited use of the vehicle. The tax only operates when the vehicle is put on the road, and therefore it is a usage tax. By the Finance Act of 1939 private car and motorcycle taxation was increased by two-thirds, road usage of course being unlimited. The war brought restrictions which have become so drastic that the mileage of the average car has been reduced to one-fourth of the normal usage. Obviously this situation had not been visualized in 1939, when the tax was so heavily increased. Today the whole character of motor-vehicle taxation has altered. The tax has been greatly increased, but the possibility of using the vehicle has been reduced almost to a minimum. Motor owners make no demur to paying their fair share of war-time taxation, and they recognize the necessity for reducing motor-vehicle usage, but they are aggrieved that the suggestion made by this committee to the Chancellor of the Exchequer—namely, that the tax be restored to the pre-war level, has not been adopted. The reduction of revenue involved is not considerable, but equity in taxation is far more important; and there can be no justification, even in war-time, for any individual being compelled to pay more than his fair share of war costs."

EIRE'S CONFUSED POLITICS

The logical outcome of the general election in Eire should be the formation of a coalition government, but Mr. de Valera, the Prime Minister, made it clear during the campaign that he is opposed to this course. His party, the Fianna Fail, continues to have the largest representation in the Dail, but as opposed to a combination of all other parties, it is in a minority. Under existing conditions in Eire, with a decline in agricultural prosperity upon which the Free State depends so much, with the consequent strengthening of Farmer representation in the Dail, and the gains made by Labor, the political situation is confused. Mr. de Valera will be wholly justified in seeking a vote of confidence to clarify the situation, temporarily at least and avoid another election, he may be given it.

The Fine Gael has thirty-two members-elect and the Farmers, Independents and Labor between them have thirty-nine. Thus the opposition numbers seventy-one to the Prime Minister's following of sixty-seven. The result of the election is a stalemate. It gives no indication of any change in Eire's policy of neutrality in the war. That was not an issue in the election. As between the main parties the only issue appeared to be as to whether a coalition government should be formed. Mr. William Cosgrave's advocacy of this is justified by the result of the contest. The outcome shows that, to some extent at least, Mr. de Valera's political strength is on the wane. On the other hand, all his Cabinet Members were re-elected though he has lost seats and the aggregate of votes given to his candidates shows a decline as compared with the last election. The contest was of the apathetic variety, unusual where Irish voters go to the polls. The apathy was possibly, as instrumental, as much as anything else, in the indeterminate result.

SHOULD CONTINUE TRAINING

The fact that there is some hiatus between air cadet training and subsequent enlistment for flying training in Canada, where such cadets volunteer, is being instanced in a few cases in this community, and presumably elsewhere throughout Canada. The hiatus comes from the ages of youths who have finished school, but are not yet old enough to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force. If provision could be made to keep them in the air cadet corps, even though they have graduated from school, this would work to the advantage both of the youths and of the air cadet system itself.

As sometimes happens now, an air cadet, who is not going on to college, graduates from the high school. He is asked to turn in his air cadet uniform, because it will be required for the next boy who takes up such training. Meanwhile, the air cadet who has finished his preliminary training, but is not yet old enough to be accepted for the senior flying service, is at a dead end. He may want to enlist, but his age precludes that. He would like to continue with the air cadets, but is no longer a member of the school corps.

Some solution for that impasse should be worked out. If it is not practicable to have the leaving air cadet retain his standing in the air cadet corps, perhaps some other means of closing the gap and preventing this hiatus can be worked out. If at all possible it should, because eager youths, filled with their preliminary training, are a tremendous asset to Canada and the combined air training plan. It is sufficient, perhaps, to draw attention to the need, and to commend its solution to those who have such training in charge. In the Victoria area some youths missed the Summer camp on those grounds, and this was a disappointment to them, after a year's keen preparation.

Miss Agnes McPhail is the latest individual in Canada to fall foul of the indiscreet use of unsupported assertion. Her reference to Canadian judges is not supported by the facts, nor will it commend itself to many who have watched the courts function. Whatever their political leanings before appointment, most Canadian jurists have been embarrassingly free of sycophancy, as some governments have found to their cost.

A cow-herd collie saved the life of his master at Beaverton, Ont., the other day, when he stepped in between the injured man and an infuriated bull, which had already gored him and was moving in to finish the farmer off. This collie at least earned a mention in dispatches, as has many another of the same breed.

Mr. Henry J. Kaiser, and his son, Mr. Edgar F. Kaiser, are two men who will never have to apply for a change-of-name by reason of any co-incidental resemblance to a title born once by the former house of Hohenzollern. Kaiser stands for ships in the world today, not for wood-cutters.

FROM: ODE ON THE SPRING

To Contemplation's sober eye
Such is the race of Man:
And they that creep, and they that fly
Shall end where they began.
Alike the Busy and the Gay
But flutter thro' life's little day,
In Fortune's varying colors drest:
Brush'd by the hand of rough Mischance,
Or chill'd by Age, their airy dance
They leave, in dust to rest.

Methinks I hear in accents low
The sportive kind reply:
Poor moralist! and what art thou?
A solitary fly!
Thy joys no flittering female meets
No hive hast thou of hoarded sweets
No painted plumage to display:
On hasty wings thy youth is flown,
Thy sun is set, thy Spring is gone—
We frolic while 'tis May.

—Thomas Gray.

EPITAPH ON AN ARMY OF MERCENARIES

These, in the day when heaven was falling,
The hour when earth's foundations fled,
Follow'd their mercenary calling
And took their wages and are dead.

Their shoulders held the sky suspended;
They stood, and earth's foundations stay;
What God abandon'd, these defended,
And saved the sum of things for pay.

—A. E. Housman.

That great baby, the world, however it may cry up and pretend to admire its idols, is just like the little girl who, after dressing up her doll in all its finery, and caressing it till she is tired, is not easy till she has pulled it to pieces again and reduced it to its original rags and wool.—William Hazlitt.

Never to tire, never to grow cold; to be patient, sympathetic, tender; to look for the budding flower and the opening heart; to hope always; like God, to love always—this is duty.—H. F. Amiel.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Usually, Macool comes to visit me. Yesterday, I came up behind him on the street. As Shamus was mumbling to himself, I stopped for a moment before breaking in on his reverie. I distinctly heard him saying the multiplication table, beginning with "twice one." I checked an impulse to pat him on the back. I have always approved of arithmetic for others—and listened.

"Twicet wan is two . . . twicet two is four . . . twicet tray is . . . twicet tray is . . . pardon me, young leddy, I didn't see where I was goin' . . . twicet tray is six . . . bedad, an' I haven't lost me multiplication table! That's somethin'," said Shamus, commencing with himself.

I was holding back a chuckle, but now it escaped from me. Shamus turned. There was a haunted look in his eyes, I thought.

"What's the matter, Shamus?" I asked.

"Lo, bhoy, is it you? Matter enough. I think I've strained me arithmetic. It's the income tax . . . but wait until we find a sate, an' I tell ye."

Presently we were seated, with $2,000,000 worth of public buildings behind us, and a fountain in front. (The fountain was not working. Young Horatio Wilkins, of the Port Rush Wilkinses, had turned it into a fort, and was making noises like a machine gun over the side.) Shamus looked at the boy in silence for a while, and then sighed heavily. "That is the age to be!" he said.

"Yes, but what about the income tax?" I asked him.

"Faith, an' it nearly finished me, bhoy. Mind ye, I approve av the income tax in a way, but not the way they have it now. Ye figure premiums—go to the company an' get the date av issue an' all that—and thin, after ye have it all, they tell ye to nivir mind the insurance premiums but take the figures printed in column this on page that, and throw the rest away!"

Shamus relighted his pipe, which had gone out in his agitation, and resumed:

"On Monday, bhoy—with the insurance in an' all—I figured the governmint owed me wan hundred an' twinty-six dollars, an' sivinteen sints. I knew that couldn't be right, so I wint to the tax office. Sure enough, it was wrong. A young man—a very dacent young fella, he was—read me a line under Item 12, referring to Item 11 A—or was it 11 B, now—which said: 'Take the lesser as a deduction'. An' bang wint me insurance. I might as well have had none!

"On Tuesday, what with wan thing an' anither, I figured that the governmint and I would break even, that naither av us was goin' to git any fresh money out av it—the governmint because it had all me money already, and me on account av a refund so small that I doubted if they would iver find it. Thin on Wednesday, bhoy, I settled down to the final draft, and there is where I was mixed up agin. Me eyes, an' they are none too good, read the figures in the wrong colyum. For a time it looked as if I still owed the governmint wan hundred an' forty-sivin dollars; and no sints."

Shamus took his pipe out of his mouth, and chuckled.

"I tell ye, bhoy, that had me scared. I wint like a lamplighter back to the tax office, and asked to see the same young fella. But it was wrong again, bhoy. It seems I had thrown out Item something or other, after the insurance, whereas that was the wan I was supposed to kape in. The young fella—an' more power to him—put me straight, and it's all settled now. The governmint owes me four dollars an' sixteen sints—and I told thim to keep it. It may come in handy in 1944. I see by the papers that the average man is supposed to make out his income tax papers in twinty minoots. Bedad, I wouldn't have done it in twinty years, if it hadn't been for that young fella at the tax office—may his shadow nivir grow less. As it is bhoy, I think me arithmetic is strained for life," said Shamus.

"Now, will ye hear me multiplication table?" asked Macool, with a twinkle in his eye.

"I will not." I told him.

"An' why not?"

"Because Shamus, I have to make out my own income tax return today," I responded.

"It's aisy, bhoy. All ye have to do is put your finger on the right colyum—and throw out your life insurance. Though for the life av me I don't know why!" said Shamus.

When it comes to that, neither do I.

The Winnipeg police department has placed advertisements in newspapers for constables, but no women need apply. Chief of Police George Smith recently stated: "Women have no place on a beat. They cannot handle drunks, nor are they able to make arrests" . . . According to The Canadian Police Gazette, Senator J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., said during a meeting to discuss postwar problems: "Bureaucratic wartime boards may try to perpetuate themselves after the war, but when that time comes the Canadian constitution will assert itself, and most of these boards will go out of the window, lock, stock and barrel. First to go will be the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, for almost everything today coming within activities of this board was wartime invasion of the field of civil rights" . . . In 1939 the Nazis brought out a bullet-puncture-sealing plane gasoline tank built of a composition of fibre, buckskin and raw rubber with an inner lining of thin vulcanized rubber. The Allies Nations quickly followed with an improved tank containing a lining of synthetic rubber that sealed bullet holes in short order and saved the lives of countless men and planes . . . Note from Hubert: "The Victoria-Saanich Anglers' Association is holding a rowboat competition on Sunday. We have been sending out circular letters giving details of the contest to all our members, and in reply to one a respected member wrote as follows: 'Please find enclosed the sum of $3 for membership for myself and wife, also fees for both of us for the first contest. Please mail to above address, thank you. Do you supply liniment after the contest?'"

"W.J." celebrated another milestone in his life last Wednesday, and nature has taken such good care of him that many friends actually refused to believe his right age. He told us his almost youthful appearance was due to an active and open mind, hard work at his store, and plenty of garden exercise. "W.J." brought an enormous home-baked chocolate cake to his club, decorated it with a prize red rose from his beautiful garden on Newport Avenue, and invited all and sundry to carve themselves a slice. The tribute to his wife's cooking disappeared in record time.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

NEW EDEN IN KENYA

CAIRO (CP).—A scheme has been launched to grow more bananas, maize, tomatoes and other fruit vegetables in the rich alluvial soil of the Omo Delta, Kenya.

Tondern Exploit Is Remarkable—An amazing story of how the British airmen reached Tondern and bombed Zeppelin sheds on the occasion of the recent raid was told King George when he visited the "mystery ship" of the Grand Fleet. This ship is a triplane carrier; she took the flying men and their machines to a suitable point off the German coast at a very small hour in the morning. A number of airplanes were dispatched to destroy the Zeppelin hangars at Tondern. Captain Dixon, a young officer, arrived at his destination in the grey dawn, and came so low in his search for hangars that at one time he was within five feet of the ground. A German milkman thought it a German plane and stood up in his cart to wave a cheery good morning.

Candidates for Teachers' Certificates—There will be a large number of candidates for teachers' certificates to write at the next examinations, to be held shortly in various parts of the Province. So far there have been in all some 301 applications. Of these about 140 are expected to write in Victoria, about the same number at Vancouver and twenty-one at Kamloops. Two members of the examining board will go to Vancouver and one to Kamloops, and they will, as usual, be assisted by supervisors.

Nova Scotia—The Imperial Government has officially answered the petition of Nova Scotia for a dissolution of the union with Canada, and the answer is satisfactory as showing that Confederation is an Imperial as well as a Colonial policy. The answer adds importance to the cession of the Northwest Territory, and assures us that England is determined to complete the scheme without unnecessary delay.

New Life Movement Spreads in China

By FRANK M. KELLEY

About the time a quartette of other world Powers were in various stages of experimenting with new ways of life in the middle thirties—like the New Deal in the United States, the Communist movement in Russia, Fascism in Italy and National Socialism in Germany, all of which promised rosy years ahead for the nationals of the countries mentioned—China introduced something a bit different for a pattern of living, which [illegible] Movement. It was launched at Nanchang, Kiangsi, in February, 1934, by Chiang Kai-Shek, chairman of China's Executive Yuan and generalissimo of the Nationalist forces, and shortly after the Central People's Movement Committee was organized and started to function.

Differing considerably from the aims of the American, Russian, German and Italian movements, the Chinese virtues — "Li," meaning courtesy, "I," service to fellowmen as well as self; "Lien," honesty and respect for the rights of others; "Chih," honor and highmindedness. Instantly, the idea began to catch the imagination of the people, subsequently sweeping the country to such purpose its followers soon numbered millions.

Its immediate success was far beyond the dreams of the sponsor. Social conditions pertaining to China a decade or more ago were pretty bad and the task of China's leader as he sought to create more stable conditions, appeared colossal, although well worth trying to remedy. The percentage of illiteracy was among the highest in the world. Sanitation was something unknown in the rural districts, with the result that epidemics were common. Peasants, tempted by the fruits of plunder, became militant Communists and bandits, all of which made the lot of those who were inclined to toil almost impossible, so that banditry really became the most popular method of making a livelihood.

UNFORTUNATE CONDITIONS

While those unfortunate conditions prevailed generally throughout the rural districts, things were only slightly better in the cities. The young people thought only of pleasures. The rich were greedy, and immoral, it was stated. Oppressing their less fortunate brothers they filled their pockets at the expense of the latter. The poor went undisciplined, and extortion, bribery and graft were rife among officials. No attention was paid to the welfare of the general public, while struggles for power prevailed among the political and military leaders, making it difficult to establish anything like responsible government. These conditions, according to some Chinese, provided the real opportunity for external racketeers to move into China and flout the sovereignty of the country as they seized vast areas of territory.

It was to remedy this unfortunate state of affairs and prepare the people of China to take an intelligent part in the building and salvation of China that Chiang Kai-Shek sponsored the New Life Movement. In a brochure, issued in Chinese at the time and since translated into English by Madame Chiang, he stated "the struggle of China to emerge from the revolution which in 1911 began successfully by overthrowing the Manchu Dynasty was hampered by the unpreparedness of the people for the responsibilities of public life, as well as by the age-old influences of apparently sanctified customs. For hundreds of years the Chinese people" he pointed out, "had been discouraged from interesting themselves in the affairs of government and had been taught, even with the executioner's sword, that the administration of the country was the exclusive concern of the official class.

"Consequently the people had no interest in government and, as the rulers desired, disregarded national affairs and confined themselves to the needs of the family and the clan, caring nothing about responsibilities of citizenship, requirements of patriotism or loyalty to country, with the result that when the political window was at last thrown open they were, in a manner, blinded by the light that suddenly and unexpectedly poured in upon them."

A NATIONAL CONSCIOUSNESS

Far-sighted and for China just, Chiang Kai-Shek appreciated that the march of events demanded well-balanced directive action to bring about and hasten reforms which meant, in the first instance, the creation of a national consciousness through mass psychology, and with that intent behind it the New Life Movement was launched, aimed at the social regeneration of China.

As a practical illustration of what Chiang Kai-Shek had in mind, Nanchang, the capital of Kiangsi Province, in ruins and debris, was transformed into a new city. Highways were constructed, new streets were built, parks opened, new buildings were erected and hundreds of schools, aimed to banish illiteracy, were opened on a cheap but efficient basis.

What was accomplished at Nanchang served as an example for other cities. Public health programmes began to be initiated, vulgar manners tended to disappear, gambling lost many of its devotees, less opium was consumed, while extortion and its kindred rackets started to decline and the poorest citizen came to know something of what justice means. By 1935 there were 1,100 branches of the New Life Movement in nineteen provinces of China. Subsequently, because the women of China desired to be actively identified with the New Life Movement and had already established Women's New Life Movement Associations in various parts of the country, a National Committee was formed with Madame Chiang Kai-Shek at its head. This committee inaugurated a number of reforms affecting women, among them the privilege of leaving their homes, without severing family ties, in quest of education in the higher halls of learning, and the general abandonment of such barbarous old customs as foot-bending.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Sir,—Having received various reports and letters from representatives at Ottawa relative to proposed compulsory State health insurance, I append an extract from a letter in The Times (London), May 11, the views therein being largely those expressed in Canada.

"The national health service proposed by the Beveridge Report cannot become a complete reality unless the public have access to every kind of health service on equal terms. Until osteopaths, naturopaths and other practitioners of natural methods of healing are given the same facilities that are accorded to the traditional doctor, the several millions of people being treated by them will suffer an unfair handicap. They will be compelled to pay the State contributions for a service they do not intend to use, and their practitioners will be put to an unjust disadvantage. Natural methods of healing are not, and never can be, mere adjuncts to traditional medicine. They are based upon an entirely different theory of the cause and cure of disease and their success is proved—as success can only be proved—by the testimony of millions of grateful patients."

An unorthodox healer is not necessarily a quack or a crank, though such probably exist. There are many unorthodox practitioners who have, after long years, proved their value to the communities they serve. Bureaucratic measures naturally create distrust in a thinking public. The unthinking public accepts them meekly and pays the penalty, as we all must do. Health insurance may have its values, but the ultimate decisions must please all who are involved in the expenditure of their own money.

THE EARTHWORM

Sir,—I am glad to see some one refute Ripley's recent statement that "The earthworm is the most useful animal in the world." When I read that statement I immediately thought of facts I am aware of to write to you about refuting the statement, also in a manner similar to your letter on the same by J. E. Deloume, of Cobble Hill.

Fifty-five years ago there were no earthworms on the farm I live on when I first arrived on it and I think it could be proven that there were no earthworms whatever on Vancouver Island before the arrival of white men on it. After that earthworms were gradually introduced, unintentionally, their presence unnoticed in nursery or garden, with shipments coming in from the outside, Eastern Canada and elsewhere.

Mr. Deloume's statement that "there are many spots on the earth where the soil is capable of producing a rich vegetation and from which worms are completely absent." Vancouver Island a hundred years ago or less was "one of those spots" and everyone knows that the absence of earthworms then did not lessen Vancouver Island's rich vegetation as its many, you might say, age-old forests testify, with some of its trees still standing that were probably growing sturdily when Columbus discovered America.

Mr. Ripley deserves great credit for having "accidentally" discovered his now famous cartoons "Believe It or Not," and, by the way, is it merely a coincidence that perhaps no other man could have so capably made such a success of his idea? He has and still does and will continue, whenever necessary, to visit any part of the world, however hard the effort, in search of strange facts for his "Beeleve It or Not" cartoons. Knowing Ripley's record all through one could almost believe he was specially chosen by God to perform, and perform so well, his allotted task. Perhaps just another proof that God works in a mysterious way his wonders to perform.

Let us forgive Ripley if once in a long time he makes a false statement. He is modest. He does not demand you believe him implicitly. He does his best and does it well and leaves the rest to you.

EARTHWORMS

Sir, — Your correspondent, Mr. Jolly, questions the letter of Mr. Deloume re earthworms. Mr. Jolly says all the top soil of the earth has passed through earthworms and will again.

I do not know much about earthworms, never having seen any before I came here nine years ago, but I do know that in Saskatchewan—and I suppose the other Prairie Provinces where the frost goes down several feet every Winter—there are none, and where can you find more fertile soil—given rain—than the Prairies.

How about the Northland where there are only a few inches of soil and moss above the eternal frost. Are there earthworms there? Will Mr. Jolly please explain this?

WEEK-END IN TACOMA

TACOMA, June 25 (AP).—Tacoma prepared today for a "beefless" week-end. Meat markets said no beef was available anywhere in Tacoma, and none would be forthcoming until the packer-subsidy situation was settled.

Beef disappeared from the market early this week, and lamb and mutton had almost reached the vanishing point at noon today. But meat markets had a plentiful supply of pork, cold meats and fish. Poultry also is scarce.

MOTORSHIP SUNK

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, June 25 (AP).—A message from Puerto Manta said tonight that the motorship Santa Maria, en route from Panama with 120 passengers, had sunk last night in the shark-infested Pacific waters off Cape Pasado, forty-five miles north of Manta. No details concerning the fate of the passengers were available immediately. The area is a dangerous navigational area.

"You will observe that any of the doubled contracts could have been made and, with the hundred honors, three spades would have netted the highest score. Please advise what the correct contract was and how to arrive at it.

"Five no trump was made as follows: West opened a spade. South won and led a small diamond to the ace, returned the diamond seven and successfully finessed king and two more rounds of spades, then put East in with the diamond queen. East led the king of hearts; dummy won and returned a heart. East made his queen but then had to lead a heart, which South took with the jack, and the established diamond and fourth spade completed the contract."

The bidding on this deal was unusual, to put it mildly. The first outstanding error was made by North in opening with three clubs. For some strange reason that I have never been able to discover, some players cling to the antiquated notion that a strong hand can be announced via an opening three bid. That is not the case. Opening three bids should be reserved exclusively for hands containing one long and solid, or almost solid, suit, but with very little strength on the side. With aces in both hearts and diamonds, North's correct opening bid was one club.

Aside from this, however, the most serious mistake in the bidding was made by South when he failed to redouble four hearts. This error was no more excusable for having been an error of omission. Surely South should have welcomed the opportunity to play at a heart contract with something akin to ecstasy, and how could he make that feeling known to North except by redoubling? Assuming anything like proper play by declarer, the defenders could not have taken more than three tricks and the 530 points collected by North-South, exclusive of their rubber bonus, would have represented the largest possible score.

Incidentally, South's failure to redouble four hearts points up the generality that players are entirely too sparing in their use of this powerful weapon, even when the conditions are exactly right.

Roosevelt Not Recognizing Coal Workers' Deadline

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP). — President Roosevelt, saying he would not recognize the United Mine Workers' October 31 deadline for continued coal production, said today that many people seem to forget the United States is at war and the life of the country is at stake.

The President's grim reminder at a press conference that a prolonged stoppage of coal production could throttle the war effort came against the background of those other developments:

1. A spread of absenteeism in the Pennsylvania coal fields that had some 145,000 of the state's 200,000 miners idle. Pickets were attempting, too, to shut down other mines. A survey of all major coal mining indicated about half of the 521,000 miners were still out of the pits. Union leaders said they had sent out organizers to try to get the men back to work on Monday, and it appeared the opening of the mines then would furnish the crucial test of whether the miners will accept the back-to-work order adopted Tuesday by the union's policy committee.

CONTROVERSY DEVELOPS

2. An apparent sharp controversy within the administration over whether disciplinary action should be attempted against the United Mine Workers. The War Labor Board took to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes a request that the Government compel the U.M.W. to sign a contract, as ordered by the W.L.B., or punish it for refusing. On the other hand, Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, the Federal boss of the mines, said he knew of no way to make any "private individual or group" sign an agreement.

3. A conference of Ickes with some thirty executives of major mines on the question of extending his nominal control of the mines to active management in anticipation that the Government will have to operate them for a "considerable period."

4. Closing of five additional blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh area by United States Steel Corporation. This brought to ten the number down and officials said they were considering whether further curtailment would be necessary.

There was no immediate direct comment from the White House on the W.L.B.'s request for enforcement of its order that the U.M.W. sign a contract with the operators at the old terms plus concessions of about [illegible] a day.

In his brief press conference discussion, however, President Roosevelt left no doubt that in his own mind all other questions are secondary to one hard fact:

Coal must be mined if the United States is not to meet with disaster. He said it must be done some way, that the country is at war and has got to have coal. John L. Lewis, U.M.W. president, and the union policy committee made the back-to-work order contingent upon continued Government operation of the mines. Earlier Lewis had denounced the contract proposed by the W.L.B. as an "infamous, yellow dog" one.

Air Cadets Have Interesting Camp At Air Station

BY AIR CADET FRED MORRIS

Nearly 250 Air Cadets returned Thursday from an eight-day stay, under canvas, at a West Coast airport. The cadets hailed from all parts of British Columbia, thirty-nine of them being from Victoria.

The cadets arrived in camp in the late afternoon of Wednesday, June 16, and after a roll call proceeded to the mess on the R.C.A.F. station for supper. That evening the entire cadet body was divided into ten flights of about twenty-three each. These flights were named after famous Allied fighting planes, their names being Hurricane Red, Hurricane Blue, Spitfire Red, Spitfire Blue, Beaufighter Red, Beaufighter Blue, Lightning Red, Lightning Blue, Kittyhawk Red and Kittyhawk Blue. The flights were each under the command of a cadet warrant officer, first class.

The cadets were housed in twelve tents, each sheltering twenty boys in double-tiered spring beds. An Air Cadet warrant officer was also in charge of each tent. When the boys had been assigned to their tents they were all issued with two sheets, three blankets and a pillow case. The beds had to be made hospital style, which caused some of the cadets considerable trouble. As is usually the case, most of the boys experienced quite some difficulty in getting to sleep the first night.

The first morning was taken up with medical inspections and that afternoon the cadets were given a welcoming address by the commanding officer; talks by senior officers on their overseas experience in this war, and a lecture on security intelligence. That night those cadets who wished to do so had the opportunity of attending the regular Thursday night movie put on by the Y.M.C.A. in the recreation hall for the entertainment of the men at the station.

ATTEND MANY LECTURES

During the following week the cadets attended, by flights, armament, photography, meteorology and flying control lectures. Besides these lectures they spent a considerable time at maintenance, where they had the opportunity of going through many types of aircraft. The cadets were each given the chance of firing twenty-five rounds with a machine gun and five rounds with a rifle on the armament range.

When the boys visited the marine section they were given rides in crash boats, motor dinghies and some of them had the opportunity of steering a fuel barge, which really is a small tender used for refueling flying boats. The cadets visited the R.A.F. station, each spending what amounted to a whole day there.

While there they saw instructive movies, attended synthetic training lectures and visited hangers. Each cadet had drill periods and took his turn at kitchen and camp fatigues.

On the morning of Sunday, June 20, the cadets attended either the Roman Catholic or the Protestant church parade.

INSPECTED BY COMMANDING OFFICER

On Wednesday afternoon last the commanding officer of the air station inspected the cadets and took the salute in the march past. Following this inspection the cadets returned to camp and had a sports programme. The officers of both the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. stations subscribed $30 to buy prizes for the winners of the sports meets in this and the other two camps that will follow immediately after it. Wednesday evening was spent in a sing-song, presentation of the sports prizes, and talks by the camp officers and N.C.O.'s.

Thursday morning the cadets handed in the blankets, sheets, etc., with which they had been issued and cleaned up the camp. Immediately after lunch the boys, filled with joy at the thought of home but sorry to leave the camp and the good times they had had there, returned to their home cities.

The camp was really a great success and much of this was due to the great co-operation given to the camp by both the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. The boys were purposely given some amount of fatigue work to do to show them that the air force is not all glamour. During the entire stay at camp the food was nothing but the best. Although some of the boys did not seem to realize it, the discipline they got at the camp did them much good.

Make Plans for Election After War in Britain

LONDON, June 25 (CP). — The Government has announced plans for a postwar general election—the first since 1935—in which persons serving in the armed forces will be enabled to vote by mail or proxy, a practice not permitted at the present time.

Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, told the House of Commons that the Government intended to introduce legislation which would enable any person who has reached twenty-one to vote.

At present hundreds of thousands of adults in Britain are not eligible to vote because the register of voters has not been revised since the beginning of the war and no provision has been made for voting by those in the armed forces who are absent from home.

Wartime elections have been held only to fill vacancies in Parliament caused by deaths or resignations.

Old-times of the Colwood district will remember that for some time prior to 1913 services were held by the late Canon Baugh-Allen, of Esquimalt, and others in an old Presbyterian church situated in the Pioneer Cemetery, near the site of the present church. The land for the present site was donated by the late Alfred Peatt, and Mrs. R. Dunsmuir was a generous patron until the time of her death.

After the district had been canvassed by Canon Baugh-Allen, Rev. H. B. Hadlow, assisted by Rev. H. Pearson, was sent to be in charge of the Colwood-Langford parish and the Colwood church was built thirty years ago.

Rev. Arthur Wells succeeded Mr. Hadlow and after his death, Mr. Pearson returned as vicar. Following were Rev. H. B. Allen, Rev. H. S. Payne, Rev. A. L. Nixon, Rev. A. Acheson-Lyle, Rev. R. E. M. Yerburgh and Rev. F. J. Disney, who is now in Vancouver.

Queen Charlotte Islands to Have Hostess House

The Queen Charlotte Islands are somewhat off the beaten track so far as the average British Columbian is concerned, but they are, in reality, the farthest western outpost of Canada's war effort and a large number of men in the Canadian services, notably in the air force, are stationed there.

As may be expected these men are isolated from the larger centres of population on the Mainland, but the comparatively few local residents of the islands are leaving no stone unturned to provide such entertainment and hospitality for the troops as lies within their power.

As an example the residents in the vicinity of Skidegate and Queen Charlotte City have recently organized with a view to providing the men of the services at Alliford Bay and other points with a hostess house and they have appointed Mrs. E. O. Stevens, of Skidegate, president.

Plans have already been drawn and approved and appeals have been made to many interested firms and people in Vancouver and Victoria and elsewhere for funds to erect the building and for furnishings when it is completed. It is hoped to commence building operations very shortly and those who are interested are asked to send their contributions to Mrs. Stevens at Skidegate.

In addition to the men in the services who will find relaxation and entertainment at the proposed hostel there are many loggers, fishermen and construction men engaged in the war effort who, whilst they are away from their own homes and families, have no centre of recreation to which they can go.

Towards the end of last month a most successful concert party was given at the Skidegate Mission to raise funds for the Hostess House and a very useful sum was collected. A great deal more is, however, required before construction can commence. Corporal Curly Neil, R.C.A.F., formerly with Warner Bros. Studios, Hollywood, California, was master of ceremonies and he was assisted by a number of first class professional artists.

Graduating Class Entertained at P.-T.A. Banquet

The Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association entertained the 1943 graduating class at a banquet held in the library of the school, when special guests included the teaching staff of the school. John Price led the gathering in grace.

The tables were beautifully decorated in the color scheme of pink and green, the school colors. Each girl received a corsage bouquet of rosebuds and the boys a rosebud boutonniere. The teachers each received corsages of pink carnations, as also did Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. F. W. Briers, who convened the supper arrangements.

The graduation exercises were held in the auditorium at 8 o'clock to which parents and friends had been invited. The ceremony opened with the singing of "O Canada" following by the "Hymn of Thanksgiving" by the graduating class. Judy Wilks acted as chairman of the ceremony and gave a few appropriate words before introducing Jervis Gay, who gave the valedictory address. The work of the Junior Red Cross was reported on by Maureen Bray. June Cummings gave a very interesting resume of the general activities of the school and very proudly announced that the school had reached its objective of $750 in the sale of War Saving Certificates.

Judy Wilks then introduced Mrs. Pottinger who presented the Margaret Jenkins prize for proficiency to John Alexander Price; the Canadian history prize to Edward Kohse; popularity prize to John Jervis Gay; girl's sports cup to Mareen Bary and Ora Chungranes on behalf of Richmond and Hollywood teams, which tied, and the boy's sports cup to Jervis Gay on behalf of Richmond team. In closing remarks Mrs. Pottinger wished the class good luck and Godspeed through their high school years. Col. W. N. Winsby, former principal of the school, was then introduced as the guest speaker of the evening and gave the class a very interesting talk on what would be expected of them in the future. The graduating class then sang "Jerusalem" and the ceremony ended with the national anthem.

The graduating class included: William Balcom, Ernest Blaney, Maureen Bray, Bob Brown, Ora Chungranes, Joyce Collard, Patsy Corry, June Cummings, Jervis Gay, Rheta Greig, Bill Hall, Merrin Hayward, Marie-Ariel Jorre de St. Jorre, Jack Kane, Edward Kohse, Isabelle Murray, John Price, Vernon Taylor, Allen Toevs, Edward Turner, Eric Turner, Kenneth Turner, Alan Turcotte, Kenneth Wallace, Thomas Wickham, Judy Wilks.

VICTORIA WEST

A very successful sports day was held recently at Victoria West School. Under the direction of Mr. H. E. Hurn and the teaching staff, races and novelty events entertained the children, and a "hot dog" stall attracted many customers. The house cup was won by Fraser House, and was presented by the president of the parent-teacher association, Mrs. A. Mawer. Following the sports, many of the parents were entertained at tea in the flower-decked auditorium, the girls of Grade 7 acting as hostesses. A style show was given by girls of Grade 8, who modeled the dresses the girls had made. The tea was under the direction of Miss Simpson, home economics teacher, and netted a nice sum for the Red Cross.

SCHOOL PICNIC

The Colwood School picnic was held recently at Esquimalt Lagoon. A picnic lunch and supper were enjoyed and an excellent programme of games and sports was superintended by the teachers, Miss M. Bartle and Miss D. Bancroft. The former school principal, Mr. E. Emery, was present and was given a handsome fountain pen by the pupils.

L.A. Realizes $1,594 for Hospital Funds

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, held yesterday afternoon at the institution with the president, Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, in the chair, Sister Mary Kathleen, superior, warmly thanked the members for the generous contribution of $1,594 received during the past year, which [illegible] the expenses of a special ether vapor anaesthesia apparatus for the eye, ear, nose and throat department; an illuminator and developing tank for the surgical department, an ultra-violet machine for the physiotherapy department, and for the upkeep of the internees' library.

Sister Superior gave heart-felt thanks to the members of the auxiliary for its "devoted activities for St. Joseph's," saying that the increased number of patients has placed heavier demands upon everyone, and the assistance given at the weekly sewing meetings was greatly appreciated by the sisters.

Generous donations were also received from the Community Chest during the year and had been applied in part to meet the expenses incurred for patients who were unable to pay their accounts, Sister Superior stated, showing how the sum of $424 had been expended on surgical care, dressings, prescriptions, maternity care and laboratory tests.

TO CONTINUE IN OFFICE

The following members of the executive continue in office for another year: Mrs. Llewellyn Jones, president; Mrs. Frank Doherty, vice-president; Mrs. Blair Reid, treasurer. The office of secretary was assumed at this meeting by Mrs. M. E. O'Neill. Counsellors are Mrs. J. B. Dixon, Mrs. Burnley Hall, Mrs. Vernon Thomson, Mrs. P. Briggs, Mrs. G. Brady, Mrs. J. P. Watson and Mrs. G. Wight. Refreshment conveners: Mrs. E. Hornsby and Mrs. M. Morning. Sewing committee: Mrs. R. N. Dickinson and Mrs. G. Wight.

In giving her report for the year Mrs. Llewellyn Jones briefly outlined the social and business enterprises sponsored by the members, mentioning in particular the annual bazaar, which had been most successful, she said, considering that many of the members are engaged in sewing and knitting for other organizations at present, the sum of $870 having been realized. The auxiliary's bursary of $15 was again presented at the nurses' graduation exercises, being awarded to Miss Marjorie McBean. A delightful tea was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Doherty, the Uplands, when $45 was received. This amount will be used to purchase materials for the bazaar, Mrs. Jones said. The president had attended as delegate the convention of the British Columbia Hospitals Association, held at the Empress Hotel in November. In conclusion, Mrs. Jones thanked the Sisters for their co-operation and kindnesses, the work of the sewing convener, Mrs. R. N. Dickinson, and other members for their continued support.

ARTICLES COMPLETED

Mrs. Dickinson reported a total of 2,291 articles completed during the year and 21,680 sponges. The articles included bags, binders, blankets, baby gowns, dressings, covers, drapes, packs, masks, roller towels, scrivettes, sheets, and so on.

Following the adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served by the sisters. The auxiliary members were joined by the Mother Provincial and four visiting sisters: Sister Mary Alfreda, Juneau, Alaska; Sister Mary Mark, Oliver, B.C.; Sister Mary Henrietta, Dawson, Y.T., and Sister Mary Patrick.

Lake Hill Couple Celebrate Their Silver Jubilee

Tuesday marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Heather, prominent members of the Sacred Heart Church and residents of the Lake Hill district. Mr. and Mrs. Heather were married June 22, 1918, in Immediate Conception Church, Winnipeg, by Rt. Rev. Mr. Cherar.

The jubilarians attended a special Hing Mass in Sacred Heart Church on Tuesday morning and in a beautiful ceremony immediately preceding the Mass renewed their marriage pledges and received a special blessing. Rev. Thomas Mangan, parish priest of Sacred Heart Church, was celebrant of the mass, and congratulated the jubilarians. Rev. Mr. Donal Lehane was master of ceremonies, Lloyd Hanley, Thurlter and Pascal Daniel and William Hurst were acolytes.

The Jubilee Mass was sung by the children's choir under the direction of Miss Evelyn Cote. The children sang appropriate hymns for the solemn service.

Immediately after the service, Father Mangan in behalf of the parishioners presented Mr. and Mrs. Heather with a silver tea set as token of the esteem in which the jubilarians are held by the parish.

Mr. Heather is a veteran of the last war and a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus. He is also treasurer of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. Mrs. Heather is the president of the Lake Hill subdivision of the C.W.L. Under her leadership the C.W.L. has made great progress in the parish. She has also distinguished herself in Red Cross work and other community affairs.

Mount Joy, Scene of St. Christopher's Annual Sports Day

A great many friends, representing three generations in the life of St. Christopher's School, gathered on Friday afternoon in the shaded gardens at Mount Joy, Foul Bay Road, where through the kindness of Mr. F. B. Pemberton the annual sports were held. Also present were a large number of old boys and girls, who keenly anticipate the annual rally with the students and teachers of their former school.

For the nineteenth year in succession the prizes, in the form of sixty war savings stamps, were presented by Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns, who for the first time had no story for the children. He referred to the bazaar held recently in aid of the Solarium which had proved so successful, and commended the children of St. Christopher's for taking an interest in children worse off than themselves.

Refreshments were served under the trees, bringing the delightful afternoon to a close.

AXIS PREPARED "DAY AND NIGHT"

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP).—The Axis is prepared "day and night" to meet an Allied invasion of Europe, German Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels asserts in the current issue of Das Reich, according to a Berlin radio broadcast recorded by The Associated Press.

"We think it quite possible—under certain conditions even quite probable—that the Anglo-American powers will try an invasion on the Continent," he was quoted as writing. "The only question is when and where."

As for the "war of nerves" being waged by the Allies, Goebbels asserted such a campaign could be successful only against an "inferior" people—not against the Germans. He said the Axis had sufficient reserves to meet an invasion effectively at any point on the Continent.

"There is no comparison between fighting in North Africa or for Pantelleria and fighting for Europe," the article asserted.

Hon. H. H. Stevens Asks Premier to Give More Consideration to Labor

VANCOUVER, June 26.—The following "open letter" was forwarded yesterday to Prime Minister Mackenzie King by Hon. H. H. Stevens, dealing with labor conditions in Canada:

"Dear Prime Minister:

"Canadians are justly proud of Canada's achievements in connection with the war. We have been thrilled with the accounts of the activities of the Armed Forces, but I wish particularly, in this letter, to refer to our industrial accomplishments. These have indeed been little short of marvelous. This is due to three main factors; first, the remarkable, skill, ingenuity and magnificent genius of our technical men, and, secondly, to the loyalty and adaptability of our labor forces, both men and women, and, thirdly, to our industrial and financial leaders in organizing these new and hitherto unfamiliar industrial activities. You will, of course, expect me to recognize the part the Government has played in this great national war effort, which I do quite cheerfully, but with the following reservations.

"Canadians, generally, have amply demonstrated an overwhelming capacity for overcoming difficulties in the hour of crisis; but the Government of Canada, during the past fateful and tragic four years of war, has lamentably failed in giving due recognition to the magnificent contribution made by the war workers of Canada. The Government has also been derelict in its failure to give leadership to this great army of workers, who, by their loyalty, devotion to duty and ready adaptability, have made such a notable contribution to Canada's war effort.

"You, my dear Prime Minister, lost a golden opportunity when you failed to invite the leaders of the Labor movement into full partnership with the Government on the outbreak of war. You made a great mistake when you "froze wages" without having first carried the judgment of Labor. The wages of tens of thousands of workers were "frozen" at a debased level due to the ten years of depression, and were therefore unfair and unjust. The result of this injustice, and the Government's refusal to treat Labor as a full member of the great economic partnership, is largely the reason for sporadic strikes and labor troubles. These, however, have been comparatively few, and, while deplorable, are understandable. I am not arguing that Labor and Labor leaders are faultless and without some degree of blame for these difficulties, but on balance I am convinced that the major responsibility rests with the Government and with those industrial leaders who stubbornly refuse to accept collective bargaining as a definite and modern method of dealing with industrial disputes.

"In this morning's paper, June 22, your Minister of Labor suggests the appointment of controllers in Labor bodies in order to develop responsible trade union leadership. This is but further evidence of treating Labor as a subservient element in society, and, in my opinion, is the wrong approach.

"I urge you and plead with you to reverse this predatory attitude, and that the Government introduce the policy of co-partnership by inviting to your councils Labor leaders who enjoy the confidence and respect of their fellow workers; that these bona fide Labor representatives be given equal place in the direction of our economic affairs. These Labor leaders also should be appointed to the various directional boards and commissions, and, in this way, inspire in the minds of the average worker belief in the good faith of the Government in this time of national urgency and trial. In brief, abandon the policy of treating Labor as a cost item in production and accord to them their full rights as citizens playing an effective and vital part in national affairs, which is their due. The numerous minor labor disturbances in Canada, and the much more serious employer and employee conflicts in the United States, is but an indication of the growing dissatisfaction in the ranks of industrial workers with the monopolistic control of the economic life of the two respective countries. Furthermore, I would remind you that there are no accepted "standards of labor conditions" in Canada, and the establishment of such might well engage the attention of Government and Parliament at this time and ought not to be postponed to the post-war period.

"Inflation is undoubtedly a menace, but ought not to be used as an excuse to "freeze" wages at a subnormal rate, nor should the inflation bogey be invoked as a justification for ignoring the human rights of the industrial workers. The vast army of workers, who have made such a notable contribution to war material production, are, as citizens, entitled to recognition on the Honors List as are a handful of specially selected individuals. A job well and effectively done, no matter how humble it may be, is just as honorable as that of an industrial executive.

"I respectively, but urgently, suggest that you take immediate steps to give the recognition to the magnificent contribution of the industrial workers of Canada."

"(Sgd.) H. H. STEVENS."

mation that would enable them to attack the salvage vessel."

The R-12, commissioned in 1919, had a displacement of 930 tons afloat and 630 tons submerged. She was 179 feet long with a beam of seventeen feet, six inches. Her armament included one three-inch fifty-calibre gun and four torpedo tubes.

The previous submarines lost since the war began include six overdue and presumably lost due to enemy action. These were the Amberjack, Argonaut, Grampus, Oruinnion, Perch and Shark.

In addition to these the submarine Seallon was destroyed to prevent capture in the Philippines, and the submarine S-26 was sunk in January, 1942, in a collision off Panama.

Names of the R-12's officers and men were not disclosed.

PUSH STAMP SALES

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP). — Petty officers and chief petty officers in the Royal Canadian Navy now may wear metal cap badges. In naval orders published today in The Canada Gazette, provision for the use of metal badges is made because of the difficulty in obtaining adequate supplies of embroidered badges.

Annual Ceremony Held Yesterday at Glenlyon School

Glenlyon Preparatory School held its eleventh prize-giving yesterday morning when the headmaster, Ian Simpson, in his address on the school activities during the year, dealt first with the various games and sports which had been carried on most vigorously.

In track, the school had been successful in winning the Oak Bay Inter-School Junior Shield, and the first cricket XI had a most satisfactory season, meeting only two defeats, one at the hands of the Fathers.

In the academic field, which he pointed out must be regarded as the most important function of the school, he referred to the winning of two Ridley College Memorial Scholarships, value $500 yearly for three years, by two of his boys, A. A. Lee and R. G. H. Boyes, the former also coming first in a scholarship competition at Brentwood College.

Special reference was made to the many boys who had come to Glenlyon from England, a large number of whom are leaving this year, and appreciation was expressed of their contribution to the school life.

Colonel H. M. Urquhart, D.S.O., M.C., A.D.C., before presenting the prizes, gave the boys a short and inspiring address. Complimenting them on their physical fitness and keenness in games and study, he urged them to take care of these assets, and to endeavor to retain in later life the spirit and vision of the boy. The prize for head boy was won by Ronald S. Wilson who was also awarded the Fergus Macdowall Shield for character and conduct. The prize list follows:

What Today Means

CANCER

If June 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Today conditions are such that the average bad beginning will have a good ending, so do not become discouraged if, when starting anything, you first encounter difficulties. Many people will unfortunately go on the theory that "self-preservation is the first law of Nature," and to save themselves from blame for their mistakes will try to shift the burden of their faults on the shoulders of innocent persons, so investigate every phase involved in any explanation before accepting it. Married and engaged couples, as well as those going through the period of courtship, will find that plain statements will be accepted at face value and prove counteractants in cases of vague fears and unfounded suspicions.

If a woman, and June 26 is your birthday, you must overcome any tendency you might have to speak with an undue amount of emphasis if you wish to become popular. It might be well for you, whenever it is possible, to place a charitable construction on the repeated comments of other people that might strike you as being unusual or uncalled for, for more things are apt to be repeatedly wrong than right today. When once you have made up your mind to forgive someone for some real or fancied wrong, make it a rule to forget the incident, so as to free your mind from a recurrence of irritating thoughts. As a photographer, artist, writer, teacher, trained nurse, dietician, actress, business operator, business manager, defence worker, Government employee, musician, sales agent, lawyer, doctor, lecturer, demonstrator, designer, or purchasing agent you should be able to demonstrate a remarkable amount of aptitude for your work and find your earning power exceeding your expectations. Favorable conditions appear to surround your matrimonial future.

The child born on June 26 should be trained to be orderly and not to expect other people to dance attendance whenever it desires them to do so. A strong regard for the truth should be inculcated in this youngster's mind. Through learning to regulate their lives properly, Cancer's children can be expected to fulfill their parents' most cherished hopes for their future.

If a man and June 26 is your natal day always remember "self-trust is the first secret of success." You must cultivate a high degree of enthusiasm if you are to succeed in the work you are doing. You may be peculiarly well fitted to be a skilled mechanic, engineer, electrician, printer, engraver, manufacturer, inventor, architect, journalist, literary man, contractor, sales agent, jurist, physician, clergyman, educator, business executive or in the service of your country.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Possibly Eleven Japanese Submarines Sent to Bottom Off Pacific Coast of U.S.

One Enemy Campaign Smashed Almost Within Sight of California and Oregon, Paper Says

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (AP).—The concerted action of alert coast guard cutters and United States Army and Navy planes blasted at least nine and possibly eleven Japanese submarines to the bottom off the Pacific Coast shortly after Pearl Harbor.

The Los Angeles Times said today a tabulation of the submarine sinkings, although not officially confirmed by the navy, was based upon substantial data. The Los Angeles Examiner said Japan's plans for snapping United States supply lines to Hawaii and Australia were smashed almost within sight of the California and Oregon coasts. Most of the action, the newspapers said, occurred not far off Los Angeles Harbor.

CAMPAIGN ABANDONED IN SHORT TIME

The campaign against the Nipponese U-boats followed closely upon the attack in the early days of the war on six American freighters not far off the coast. Within a short time the enemy underseas campaign in American waters was abandoned altogether.

The coast-guard patrol boat Hermes sports a gold star on her funnel, showing she has a submarine to her credit. This sinking presumably was in California waters. She is said to be entitled to another for dropping depth charges successfully, a month after she bagged submarine No. 1 within sight of California shores.

The Perseus, sister ship of the Hermes, is reported to have sent another submarine with the Rising Sun emblem to the bottom in January, 1942.

AIR LINE PILOT RADIOED ALARM

A California commercial air line pilot also is credited with sighting a Japanese submarine on the surface and radioing an alarm. Navy planes from San Diego swooped upon the craft and dispatched it. Two more submarines are listed as having been destroyed off California, one by plane, the other jointly by plane and surface patrol action.

Other underwater raiders are reported to have been sent to the bottom in Northern California and Oregon waters by planes and surface craft. One of these was blasted three days after the war began.

The compilation made for the newspapers does not include submarine sinkings by army planes, which, The Times said, "have been equally effective."

Some Escaped by Parachute From Forrest's Plane

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Eight parachutes were seen to open from the bomber in which Brig.-General Nathan Bedford Forrest was riding as an observer when it was shot down in an air battle over Kiel, Germany, on June 13, United States Eighth Air Force headquarters announced today.

The Americans lost twenty-four bombers over Kiel. The thirty-eight-year-old general was in the lead bomber and other flyers saw his damaged plane drop out of a returning formation and spiral toward earth.

None saw the big plane hit the ground, however, and the headquarters announcement was the first evidence that at least some of the crew might have parachuted to earth. The plane and its crew had been listed simply as "missing."

First Trip Across Great Slave Lake By the Porphyry

EDMONTON, June 25 (CP).—The Hudson's Bay Company Transport Company today announced completion of the first boat trip across Great Slave Lake by the motor vessel Porphyry.

The trip was made from Smith to Fort Resolution and Rocher River, and the vessel has now returned to Smith and is on a second trip en route across Great Slave Lake to the Lower Mackenzie River.

Dominion Gets Clear Title To Esquimalt

By order in council announced yesterday by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, the Provincial Government has given to the Dominion Government a quit claim deed to nearly 200 parcels of land, including that on which is situated the Esquimalt naval base.

This property originally was included with sites for parks, Indian reserves, ordnance, military or naval purposes, in accordance with a decree by the colonial governor, Sir James Douglas. At the time of Confederation, no trace of these documents could be found, but during the 1873 session of the British Columbia Legislature a return was filed, listing the reserves which had been claimed by Imperial authorities and delivered by them to the Dominion upon Confederation.

Provincial authorities continued to lay claim to these properties and occasionally disposed of them, wholly or in part, and the Dominion Government, also laying claim, used the remaining lands for Federal purposes.

In addition to Esquimalt, the properties in dispute included Trial Island, Brothers Island and a few small islands adjacent to Esquimalt on the south. Similarly affected were the Sidney Island Spit, some land in the Cowichan district, reserves near Prince Rupert, parcels in Barkley Sound, Owen Island, Drum Rocks, Green Isles, Sail Rock, Channel Rock and Double Islands, all in dispute, even though the Dominion had developed some of them for defence purposes.

Settlement of innumerable difficulties is due to the work of a two-man commission, composed of Harry Cathcart, deputy minister of lands for British Columbia, and Charles H. Taggart, of the Dominion Department of Mines and Resources, who were appointed some years ago to inquire into the whole situation.

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—The R.C.A.F., in its 611th casualty list of the war, containing eight names, tonight reported two men killed on active service overseas and two missing on active service after overseas air operations.

The overseas section of the list also included one man previously reported missing and now reported killed on active service and now officially presumed dead.

Train Schedules Changing Sunday

Starting on June 27, the C.P.R. train for Toronto will leave Vancouver at 7:15 p.m. daily, and the Montreal train will leave Vancouver at 7:45 p.m. daily, it was announced yesterday by R. J. Burland, general agent here for the C.P.R.

These departure times are the reverse of those in the present schedule, he said.

Train arrivals in Vancouver will be as follows: From Toronto at 8:45 a.m. daily, and from Montreal at 9:20 a.m. daily. The only change mentioned in the marine schedule between Victoria and Vancouver is that of the boat leaving here at 1:20 p.m., which will arrive at 6:35 p.m. instead of at 6:40 p.m. This change also will become effective on June 27, Mr. Burland said.

Aerobatic Maintenance Job

Far from the modern equipment of the R.C.A.F. stations they worked on in Canada, these maintenance men of a Canadian fighter unit in Alaska use any available means to carry on their work as speedily as possible. L.A.C. A. J. Coonan, of Stratford, Ont., acts as a hangar "stand" for L.A.C. Don Harper, of Stouffville, Ont., while L.A.C. Fred Mottashed, of Simcoe, Ont., works from the comparative stability of a pile of boxes.

C.P.R. Paid $1,674,391 Interest To Federal Government on Loans

MONTREAL, June 24.—Statements recently made in the House of Commons at Ottawa disclose the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway over the past few years has been a good client of the Dominion Government, insofar as the latter has gone into the business of lending money to assist vital industries in the performance of services absolutely essential to the carrying on of the nation's business.

Between the years 1932 and 1941, the Government advanced loans to the company for various purposes as follows:

During the Summer of 1936 it was necessary to find work for unemployed men in many parts of Canada. To aid in this purpose the Government advanced to the company a total of $554,700. This loan was fully repaid by installments between January, 1938, and January, 1942. Over the period the company paid to the Government interest at 2 1-2 per cent totaling $47,562.42.

Between September, 1935, and March, 1936, the Government lent to the company a total of $1,270,000 to finance betterment and repairing of railway equipment. Those were days when the depression had seriously reduced the company's available funds for this work.

The loan was fully repaid between January, 1938, and January, 1942. No interest was to be paid on this loan for the first two years, but later payments at 4 per cent were made to a total of $170,854.79.

HIRE-PURCHASE OF RAIL EQUIPMENT

During the period 1935-38 the Government purchased railway equipment to a total value of $5,730,000. This was sold to the Canadian Pacific under a hire-purchase agreement and the entire amount was repaid to the Government by January, 1943. This loan was interest free for two years. After that period the company paid interest at 3 per cent, a total of $610,978.61.

A similar arrangement was made for the purchase of equipment over a period including the years 1939 and 1941. The Government lent the company a total of $9,951,489.64 at 3 1-2 per cent interest. This was fully repaid by December, 1942, with interest thereon amounting to $844,990.55 over the period until these loans were fully repaid. Therefore the Canadian Pacific made a total interest payment of $1,674,391.35.

The only other outstanding loans which the company owes the Government are two which were made for the purpose of helping to keep the country's workmen employed between November, 1931, and January, 1933. The depression was then at its full height and it was necessary that something be done to check the growing unemployment.

Large industrial concerns were approached with this end in view and the Canadian Pacific agreed to assist by going on with work that otherwise would have been left to more prosperous times when the company's funds were better able to take care of it. For this purpose the Government advanced to the company in 1931 a total of $1,447,221 repayable on demand without interest when the company resumes dividends at a rate of more than 5 per cent per annum. In 1933 and 1939 the Government advanced another million dollars repayable on demand without interest before the company pays any dividend on its common stock.

NO. 167—EIGHTY-FIFTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1943

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUND-UP

Boxla was ushered in last night at the open air playing field at Stevenson Memorial Park and the R.C.A.F., as expected with its star-studded line-up, lowered the colors of Tom McKeachie's Victoria Cougars by eight goals, despite the fact the workmen had to rush the ground into condition . . . A strong sun bothered the players for three parts of the battle but that's one situation league officials can't do anything about . . . Youngest fan at the game was Patsy Smith, one-month-old daughter of Referee Jimmy Smith . . . W. C. "Bill" Moresby, head of the circuit, who was connected with lacrosse forty-five years ago, officiated and Alderman Dune McTavish, chairman of the City Parks Board, sent the teams into action by facing off the ball . . . Proceeds from the opener will be turned over to the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay, a fine gesture on the part of the association . . . Well, the Eagles, away to a bad start, nearly came through with another ball victory at he Athletic Park at the expence of the Army, but they fell two runs short of tying the game in the ninth after a strong batting rally . . . Nick Metz took the longest "penalty shot" of his career in this part of the country when he rifled a long homer over the left centrefield fence with a mate aboard. That towering smash sent Mr. Bowes to the showers for the evening. The former Toronto Maple Leaf hockey star was given a fine welcome at the plate by his clubmates as he completed the circuit.

ODDS AND ENDS

Craig Wood, one of the sweetest golfers in the game and holder of the United States national open title, underwent an operation last February that was a "kill or cure" for the back trouble that threatened to turn him into an invalid. He was in bed for three months. Not so long ago his doctor told him it might be all right to try to hit a golf ball again. Craig went out to his Winged Foot course to face a verdict which if sour would have deprived him of his central means of livelihood and his greatest joy of life. He shot a 72 over the championship course and the next day he fired a neat 69, but the following day he clicked off a five-under-par 67 . . . Clark Griffith, veteran owner of the Washington Senators, says that Ty Cobb was a far better base stealer than George Case, but the latter is a faster runner. Griff says he has timed Case at 9.8 for the century dash in his baseball uniform . . . To be a Chicago Cub fan these days is to have the patience of Job, the wisdom of Plato, the optimism of the average taxpayer and the fool-hardiness of Hitler . . . Do you know that Gordon Richards, the "Donoghue of his racing times in England," has just turned down an offer of $2,500 per week to tour English music halls doing something or other for the benefit of the paid customers? . . . Fred Apostoli, former middleweight boxing champion, is a lucky young fellow. A few hours after Freddy shifted as a gunner to another ship the entire crew of his old ship crashed to death . . . Victoria West softball pitch has a new face these days and it looks very pretty as compared with the old ragged one which the teams had to play on for several seasons. I wonder who done the work, the soldiers from the nearby camp, who play there quite often, or the city parks board?

FROM HERE AND THERE

Sid Stebbings, top flinger in the Navy softball camp, is going to become a member of the Army team for several days next week, according to reports reaching this corner. Sid will be traveling with the troops when they invade Seattle for their seven-game series with American nines . . . Ed Whyte, local softball secretary, told me a funny story yesterday. Here it is: "I remember one time I was starter for the sports at a picnic many years ago at Goldstream. When we called for entries for the girls-under-twelve race, eighty-seven youngsters lined up at the starting line. It was a problem, so we questioned the girls and finally eliminated forty of them when we discovered they were past the age limit. We ran the rest off in two heats, and then it was tough enough for the judges to pick out the first three" . . . Goalie Art Rice-Jones, who turned in so many sparkling performances for the Army Hockey Club as it fought its way to the Canadian finals, is back at his old stamping ground—Calgary. After graduating from Gordon Head O.T.C. recently, Art was posted to the Alberta city, where he first gained recognition as a top-ranking amateur goaltender. Best of luck, Art, but we hope you find your way back to this city by next Winter . . . Word has it that Boss Lester Patrick, of the Rangers ice squad, has five members of the Winnipeg Rangers, winners of the Memorial Cup last season, lined up for his hockey school this coming Fall . . . George Syrotuck, who is always hustling with his lowly Eagles, has started a reconstruction plan, one which he hopes will greatly fortify the feathered tribe for the rest of the schedule. He has handed out five releases and is busy these "warm" days making replacements.

*Light will not always banish the clouds of sorrow, but it will at least gloriously transfigure them.

Flyers Win Opening Lacrosse Fixture

Airmen Defeat Cougars, 20 to 12—Norm Baker Is Leading Scorer

Victoria's 1943 boxla season opened in a blaze of glory and a little dust last night at Stevenson Memorial Park, with the star-studded Royal Canadian Air Force stickhandling aggregation scoring a 20-12 victory over the Victoria Cougars.

Strangers in new surroundings, the boys put on a good show for the season's inaugural and the exhibition staged by the two clubs augurs well for future gutted stick battles. Old Sol, shining in all his June brilliance, bothered the players in the first two periods, while the dry surface made things just a little dusty.

Airmen came up with some smart passing plays and were the better balanced club. Their line of Norm and Ralph Baker and Norm Coates, local stickhandlers, showed a lot of class and fired home more markers than the first-stringers. Individual scoring star of the Flyers was Norm Baker with six markers to his credit.

Cougars, paced by Harold Mayo with six tallies, and Ken Featherstone, who bagged a quartette of goals, made a good showing against the starry airmen, and in the third period outscored their opponents.

After two quiet sessions, the players roughed things up in the third stanza, with the result that the teams drew eighteen minutes in penalties.

PARKS CHAIRMAN ATTENDS OPENING

Alderman Duncan McTavish, chairman of the city parks board, attended the game and participated in the opening ceremonies with W. C. Moresby, K.C., president of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association.

Approximately 300 fans witnessed the exhibition and the net gate receipts will be donated to the Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children.

Next Wednesday evening Jokers, 1942 juvenile "A" provincial champions, will oppose the Cougars at Stevenson Park. Game time will be 7 o'clock.

Have Stolen Bases Galore

Washington Club Really Traveling

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP).—Maybe the Washington Senators were moving too fast for the guy who first billed St. Louis Cardinals as the "runningest" outfit in baseball.

The Senators not only topped the Cards' much-headlined stolen-base performance of last year and at this writing have about six times as many as the National League bosses for 1943, but they even have Bob Johnson and Alex Kampouris going out after those steals. And that, as one press box man put it when he saw Johnson jump into second during the recent Nats-Yanks series, is larceny.

Anyway, the Senators have a neat record of sixty-four bases stolen in eighty attempts up to this writing, for an .800 average, and just by way of pointing out that this is really par for the course, it might be recalled that the year Ty Cobb set his all-time major league high in 1915, his percentage was only .567—ninety-six steals in 134 tries.

The whole Washington outfit is running wild. It's one of the big reasons the Senators are actually breathing down the Yankees' backs in the American League race.

You talk to Washington baseball men, and they tell you Clyde Milan has put the gunpowder in the Senators' shoes and pulled the trigger. Clyde's the square little man, you remember, who once was the big league base stealing king, with the eighty-eight he chalked up in 1912.

"Clyde has shown some of these youngsters how to run," one Washington baseball writer pointed out. "You can't give the Senators an inch this year. They'll break for any base any time."

Twilight Foursomes

The twilight two-ball mixed foursomes held at Uplands links proved to be a great success, with forty-eight members competing. The winning couple was Mrs. W. Erickson and Eric Hibberson with a net 69 and the runners-up were Mrs. G. K. Verley and H. G. (Scotty) MacKenzie with a net 71. The prizes were golf balls donated by the captain of the ladies' section and the captain of the men's section.

After the competition, a lunch was served in the clubhouse by the caterers, and it was voted by the members that several more such competitions be held during the season.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

General Simon Bolivar Buckner—At the outbreak of the Civil War, Simon Bolivar Buckner, a native of Kentucky, was offered a brigadier generalship in the Union, as well as in the Confederate Army, and declined both impartially. Later he accepted an active generalship in the Confederate Army, which terminated when he surrendered Fort Donelson. It was at this surrender that General Grant invited General Buckner to become a member of his staff in charge of the Confederate sick and wounded. General Buckner maintained a lifelong friendship with both Lee and Grant, and was a pallbearer at the funeral of both.

Angels Win Over Seals

Increase Margin; Seattle Triumphs

(By The Associated Press)

The marauding Los Angeles Angels made it four in a row over San Francisco, turning back the Seals by a 3-2 score. The victory boosted the Angels' lead in the Coast League race to eleven and a half games. It was the first defeat of the season for Southpaw Tom Seats. He had won seven in a row.

The climbing Portland Beavers edged within a half game of the third place San Diego Padres in a twilight game, exploding a four-run rally in the eighth inning for a 6-2 victory over the Padres.

Hollywood and Oakland played to a 5-5 tie in a game which was called on account of darkness at the end of nine innings.

Sylvester Johnson, veteran right handdr, was sufficiently recovered from a bad cold to pitch a four-hitter this evening as Seattle trounced Sacramento 6-1. Seattle has won three of the four games of the series.

Putting down a last-inning uprising by the Eagles after four runners had crossed home plate and their six-run lead had been sliced down to two, Coach Doug Peden's Army baseballers checked in with an 8-6 triumph over the feathered tribe last night at Royal Athletic Park.

Soldiers were riding along on the end of an 8-2 score right up until the first of the ninth, and then "Lefty" Medansky, Army hurler, walked right into a mess of trouble. Birdmen started to rap out important base hits; runners crossed home plate and the troops began to get a little worried. And to make matters worse, Medansky showed no signs of getting out of trouble.

With one man down, two runs home and runners on first and second, Coach Peden called "time" and decided to take his southpaw hurler out of the game. Word went out to the bullpen for Stan Curry, another wrong-sider, to take over the hurling chores. The relief pitcher tossed up a wild pitch and each of the runners advanced. And then, to further add to the threatened trouble, Curry walked the next batter to fill the sacks.

However, the Army flinger settled down and retired Reg Clarkson via the strikeout route for the second out, but "Jake" Bacon, veteran receiver, rapped out a single and scored two runs. That was all for Mr. Curry.

Bill Prior, who has excelled himself in relief pitching roles for the soldiers this season, was the third Army moundsman, and he quickly ended the ball game by forcing Jack Stratton to fly out to right field.

It was a grand climax to a fighting ball game with the Eagles' belated rally being nipped at the right moment. Birdmen, however, managed to punch out four safeties and score an equal number of runs in their last frame uprising, much to the delight of the fans.

Army collected a total of ten base knocks, including Nick Metz' circuit drive over the Pembroke Street fence, in the third frame. One man was on at the time.

"Major" Bowes, husky southpaw, made his first start of the season for the Eagles, but was not around very long. He was followed by Maurice Diamond, one of the mainstays of the feathered tribe's hurling staff. He was nicked for eight safeties, bunched by the troops, and fanned a like number.

There were a number of brilliant fielding plays in the outer gardens with Ray Reigner's running catch of Dune McGeachy's high fly in the second frame being sensational.

Clint Hodges, Eagles' shortstop had a perfect night at the plate, rapping out four hits in as many trips. Dune McGeachy, making his season's debut with the feathered tribe, and Nick Metz, hard-hitting Army shortstop, each collected three for four.

ARMY AND V.M.D. IN FIRST-PLACE TIE

Victory by the Army boosted the troops into a first-place tie with the V.M.D. 1942 champions and left the top berth at stake in tonight's ball game between the shipbuilders and the soldiers.

Riding on the crest of a six-game winning streak, including a 4-3 victory over the defending champions in their last meeting, Army will move out in front in the 1943 pennant chase.

Reports from the V.M.D. camp indicate that Coach Laurel Harney intends to throw Tommy Musgrave, his top hurler, right back at the troops. Jerry Whitney, who stopped the shipbuilders the last time out, will probably do the hurling for the soldiers.

Today's matinee attraction will bring together the Navy and Flyers, with the bluejackets out to climb closer to the two leading nines. Airmen, in fourth place, are just as anxious for a win to keep well up in the battle for play-off berths.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP).—Industrials, largely in the peace classification, responded to fresh buying in today's stock market and favorites were lifted fractions to more than 2 points to peaks for 1943 or longer.

While demand was hardly of the runaway variety, activity expanded on the revival of speculative and investment demand. Profit-taking occasionally trimmed quotations but bidding picked up in the final hour and most leaders closed at or near the day's best marks.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up .6 of a point at 51.5, where it was back to its level of June 10. The day's upturn was the widest since May 3 last. There was a little more breadth in dealings, 895 issues being traded. Of these, 599 were up, 124 down and 172 unchanged. Transfers totaled 1,146,660 shares, largest since June 14. They compared with 728,850 the day before.

Among stocks touching best levels for the year were Chrysler, Goodyear, U.S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, J. C. Penney, International Harvester, Allis-Chalmers, Paramount Pictures and American Viscose.

Steels were up in the face of fuel shortages necessitating more shutdowns of blast furnaces. Merchandising issues were aided by heavy consumer demand for goods.

Young Man Sent To Prison Term By County Court

Kenneth Cameron Appeal Dismissed

An appeal of Kenneth Walter Cameron, twenty-three, 1340 Craigflower Road, against a conviction and sentence of three months in prison at hard labor received from Magistrate Henry C. Hall in Provincial Police Court on April 21, was dismissed yesterday afternoon in County Court by Judge H. H. Shandley.

Cameron received the prison term for failing to report for military training on November 11, 1942. He was represented during the appeal by Stuart Henderson, and M. B. Jackson, K.C., appeared for the Crown.

Justin W. Cameron, father of the appellant, testified his two sons operated an automobile wrecking and salvage business, and said Kenneth had invented and patented a machine that compressed automobile body metal to such an extent that valuable shipping space was saved.

Colin Cameron, brother of the appellant, stated he was medically unfit for army service and could not carry on the business without the assistance of Kenneth.

Mr. Henderson contended the appellant was of far more use to the business than elsewhere. He asserted there had been no desire to do anything wrong, and since there had been no examination by a physician, the appellant did not have to leave his business.

"Appellant admits he refused to obey the order. We are at war. He is shirking his responsibility," Mr. Jackson countered.

"I am simply concerned with the regulations. Appellant is guilty of disobeying directions," Judge Shandley ruled. "If every young man did that, where would the army be? I feel the magistrate dealt very leni- with him. Were I to deal with him, he would receive twelve months in prison. The appeal is dismissed. Appellant will serve three months in prison at hard labor and be turned over to military authorities at expiration of the sentence."

Self-Help Plan For Cutting Fuel First in Canada

The "self-help" woodcutting project launched in Victoria by the fuel committee of the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference is unique in Canada and is the only scheme manned on purely voluntary lines, C. H. Unicume, local fuel controller, told the committee at its meeting on Thursday evening in the Trades and Labor Hall. C. W. Marshall presided.

Mr. Unicume, after commending the committee for its initiative and progress, told of certain concessions made by the regional office for traffic control in the matter of additional gas to help the committee's project. In order to avoid misuse of this privilege, the meeting appointed C. W. Marshall as controller of such extra gas rations.

Holders of woodcutting permits under the fuel committee's plan will have to register their car licence numbers and the number of woodcutters carried as passengers, together with mileague used on trips to the woodlots, with T. E. E. Elliott, who has volunteered to attend at the hall, 602 Broughton Street, every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. to receive such information. Mr. Elliott will also receive applications for free permits at the hall during these hours.

Operations to date, as reported by the secretary, showed that 203 applications have been received for permission to cut 1,600 cords of wood. At the Florence Lake woodlot, fifty cords have already been cut by men working in their spare time, principally on Sundays.

To ensure protection of the areas, holders of free-use permits are required to refrain from lighting fires for cooking or heating purposes and the committee will apply for honorary fire ranger badges to assist them in enforcing these regulations.

Servicemen Will See Army Show Next Wednesday

Men and women of the army will see their own Army Show at the Royal Victoria Theatre next Wednesday afternoon, when the visiting troupe puts on a performance exclusively for members of the fighting forces.

The Wednesday matinee will be free to all servicemen and women. Tickets are being distributed by military headquarters, through Capt. F. M. Lord, and a certain number will be sent to the navy and air force for distribution among their personnel.

The Army Show will also play for troops at Nanaimo before leaving the Island, and will then travel to the Mainland to appear at stations in Northern British Columbia.

The all-soldier stage show was written by Sgt. Johnny Wayne and Sgt. Frank Shuster, and draws its talent from members of the Canadian Army, and from the C.W.A.C.

Victorian Receives Commission Overseas

Flt. Sgt. Arthur Barnard Hammond, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cohl, 1405 St. Patrick Street, was included in a list of five British Columbians of the R.C.A.F. serving overseas, to be promoted to commissioned rank, according to a recent announcement by air force headquarters.

Flt. Sgt. Hammond was brought up in Victoria, being educated at Malvern House, Shawnigan Lake School and Victoria College, and then attending the University of British Columbia.

He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in Victoria in January, 1941, and went overseas a year later.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hammond, Montreal.

Faces Charge of Trying to Get Money

Trial of Stephen Heise on a charge of wandering about and begging on June 22 was commenced yesterday in city police court and will be resumed this morning. An adjournment was granted in order to give accused time to produce a witness who he said had promised to see that he got a job.

Constable Carl Carlson testified that Heise had asked him for 25c at the intersection of Government and Johnson Streets. Constable Harley Davidson stated the accused had not been working, had no place to sleep, and failed to produce registration and unemployment insurance cards. He said he found a full quart bottle of rye whisky in one of Heise's pockets.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, listed three previous convictions against Heise for illegal entry into the United States, and vagrancy.

Brig. Foster Coming

Brig. W. W. Foster, now touring the West and North country, will be in Victoria next Tuesday to confer with Premier John Hart concerning military matters of interest to the Provincial Government. It is possible, the Premier said, that he may later accompany Brigadier Foster to the Peace River country.

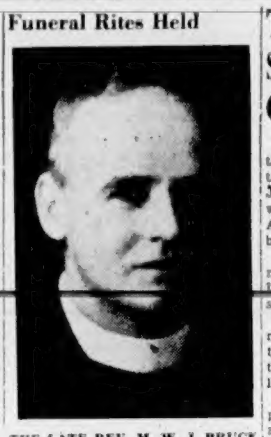
Funeral Rites Held



THE LATE REV. M. W. J. BRUCE

Well-known Victoria clergyman, for whom funeral services were conducted yesterday noon in St. John's Church by Rev. George Biddle. Mr. Bruce, who died Tuesday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, had been here for the past twenty-two years, during which he assisted at St. John's Church and occupied the pulpit in various other Anglican churches in Victoria and district.

Services to Have Proceeds From Commando Film

Money raised by the Victoria Gyro Club as proceeds from the premiere showing here of "The Commandos Strike at Dawn," which was turned over to the Citizens' War Services Committee, will be divided and equal sums sent to the three armed services on the Island, it was decided yesterday at a meeting of the committee.

Of the approximately $4,000 raised, some already has been spent for the troops in this area. Of the remaining $3,800, $500 will be kept by the committee as an emergency fund, and the rest will be sent in sums of $1,100 each to the services.

Major Harold Brown, chairman, said this disposition was favored by the Gyro Club. After receipt of the money, Major Brown said, the fund became static while the committee ascertained its authority. It was then decided that the money be returned to the Gyros, and this was found impossible because of regulations of the War Charities Act. However, Major Brown said, the course decided upon is satisfactory to the parties concerned.

MANAGEMENT OF CANTEEN ESTABLISHED

A. H. Pease, honorary manager of the Salvage Corps of B.C., reported that the corps will continue to maintain a canteen now operating for troops at the Sunday concerts in Beacon Hill Park until other arrangements are made. As it is manned by the Red Cross Corps, the Canadian Red Cross Society will be asked to assume the management of the canteen, adapted by the Salvage Corps from its "Bundles for Britain" house trailer.

A building has been found for the temporary housing of seventeen servicemen's families and alterations are being made privately, it was reported, but the committee will not assume the responsibility of supporing it until further inspections are made.

George Pifher, director of war charities in the Department of National War Services, suggested in a letter that the Three Services Centre on Broad Street be run by the different war services organizations of Victoria, with each being assigned the use of a number of beds to be alloted to soldiers. It is run now by the Salvation Army. He also suggested that from 100 to 200 more beds were needed in the centre. His letter was laid on the table.

It was moved by Mr. Pease that $50 be donated to the Esquimalt Services Home by the committee, saying that the Salvage Corps could likely supply the money.

J. P. Brown Elected Victoria West Warden

J. P. Brown was elected district warden of the Victoria West A.R.P. District 1, at a meeting in the district control room, Victoria West School. Others elected were A. W. Goodwin, deputy warden; H. Youson, secretary; and J. Kirby, captain of the messenger service.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, chief warden of the city, who presided at the meeting, spoke briefly on bombs. Two Summer meetings will be held, on July 7 and in August, with moving pictures and discussion of the incidents illustrated to be the feature of the former meeting.

Two Candidates Seek Place on Oak Bay Board

A contest for the vacant seat on the Oak Bay School Board, to be settled in the by-election to be held on July 10, was promised yesterday when Colin T. Martin, 2131 Central Avenue, announced his intention to be a candidate.

The first to signify his intention to run for the seat vacated by Sidney L. Hole was David Campbell, Windsor Road, a former trustee.

Mr. Martin, one of the younger men in local business circles, is Victoria manager of Neon Products and the Ruddy-Duker Company, and has lived here for five years.

He is well-known as a former president of the Capital City Commercial Club, member of the Rotary Club, and volunteer worker on local Victory Loan and Red Cross campaigns.

May Permit Swimming in Two Lakes

Swimming will be permitted in Beaver Lake and in part of Elk Lake if the Department of National Defence for Air offers no objection, it was announced yesterday by Alderman John A. Worthington, chairman of the City Council water board.

He stated that A. H. Perry, British Columbia representative of the Department of Pensions and National Health, saw no reason why swimming should not be allowed at Beaver Lake. He also said the official had agreed to recommend that swimming be permitted at Elk Lake, except within a restricted portion at the northwest section where pumps and a water supply intake are located.

The water board, in conjunction with Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee, is awaiting word from Ottawa before opening the lakes to the public.

Interest Shown In Sugar Protest

The 800 copies of a petition framed and approved at the representative sugar protest meeting held here on Thursday night have now been distributed, and will be forwarded to Ottawa as fast as they are filled with signatures, Reeve E. C. Warren, of the Saanich Municipal Council, said last night.

Reeve Warren had the copies made at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak, and they have been sent to population centres of Saanich, to various local organizations, and to farmers' groups and women's institutes of the Lower Island.

The fact that the reeve secured signatures yesterday sufficient to fill two and one-half sheets, or about 150 names, is indicative of the interest taken in the campaign to secure more sugar for home canning and preserving.

They will be sent to Mrs. C. Jones, secretary of the Victoria Sugar Protest Association, 1186 Yates Street.

Police Facilities May Be Expanded

Due to developments in the Peace River country, which have materially increased the population in that area, Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., and Provincial Police Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons are planning a thorough survey of conditions which may necessitate a rearrangement and expansion of police facilities in the district. Ten policemen have been added within the past few months.

Many difficulties have been experienced in connection with accommodation, administration and higher maintenance costs, Mr. Maitland explained, adding that, if possible, he and Commissioner Parsons will personally visit the north country this Summer in order to obtain first-hand knowledge of its needs for purposes of law enforcement.

Outside Shipments of B.C. Potatoes Barred

No shipments of the present season's crop of British Columbia potatoes may be made outside the province between June 24 and July 5, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board states. The ruling was announced at Ottawa by the Foods Administration because of the shortage of potatoes in British Columbia.

British Columbia new potatoes are shipped regularly at this season to Prairie markets, officials pointed out, but this year it has been considered advisable to "freeze" the British Columbia production for use in this province only because there is no acute shortage in the other western provinces.

In announcing this ruling officials added that if the British Columbia supply situation shows sufficient improvement before July 5, the ban on shipments may be lifted.

Provincial Lumber Survey Approved

Acting in behalf of the B.C. Natural Resources Conservation League, of which he is president, Hon. H. H. Stevens has conveyed to Premier John Hart the thanks of the league for the Government's announced intention of proceeding quickly with a survey of all phases of the logging and lumber industry in this province.

"The action of the Government is, we believe, a very wise step," Mr. Stevens stated, "and it also is evidence that the Government is taking a very serious and advanced view of the necessity for a broader economic outlook. We feel certain that the people of British Columbia will be deeply impressed, and definitely pleased with this progressive action by the Government."

Chinese Assaulted On Pandora Avenue

Albert Mar, Chinese youth, 930 Cormorant Street, was assaulted and robbed by unidentified assailants in the 700 block on Pandora Avenue early yesterday morning. He was taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital by police to be treated for a cut lip, missing teeth and a broken cheek bone.

Detective H. F. Jarvis and Constables T. Banister and R. Davidson searched the district without success. Mar's wallet containing identification cards but minus seventy-five cents in change was found by Detective George Clayards on top of the roof of the John Cochrane drug store at 1307 Douglas Street. It bore bloodstains.

Court Imposes Fine For Rent Increase

Frank Jones, represented by Gordon A. Cameron, was fined $25 and $3.50 costs yesterday in city police court for collecting a rental for premises at 1002 Johnson Street in excess of that fixed by Wartime Leasehold Regulations. J. B. Clearihue, K.C., appeared for the Crown.

Harold Beasley, an investigator for Wartime Prices and Trade Board, testified the rental of a flat owned by Jones at 1002 Johnson Street was $23 per month, partly furnished, in January, 1940. He said the tenant occupying the flat in January, 1943, was paying $30 for the same flat, unfurnished.

Doctor Urges Chlorine for City's Water

Claims More Germs Are Found in Lake

A recommendation that water from Sooke and Goldstream Lakes be treated with chlorine without further delay is contained in the annual report of Dr. David Berman, acting city medical health officer, the health committee in charge of Alderman Percy E. George before presentation to the City Council.

Dr. Berman states in his summary that a large increase in the number of bacillus coli germs in the city's drinking water has been found as the result of recent tests.

He also expresses grave concern at the overcrowding and gain in the tuberculosis rate among Chinese in the Oriental section of the city.

The report recommends that the council secure more assistance for the medical health officer's and sanitary inspector's offices to take care of increased activities caused by the swift rise in population.

Ice Situation in City Discussed

Estimate Supplies Enough For Needs

Representatives of B. Wilson Co. Ltd., B.C. Packers, Ltd., and the Victoria Ice Company, informed the City Council business and trade committee yesterday afternoon that as far as could be estimated ice supplies here would be sufficient to meet requirements during the Summer. Alderman B. J. Gadsden presided at the meeting.

Ice company representatives stated they were able to secure sufficient labor, but might not have the facilities to take care of new customers. They said Vancouver was having to bring ice by the carload from Seattle, and 25 per cent more persons were being supplied here than during 1940. They pointed out they had reached the limit of their capacity, and were unable to secure additional machinery. Figures showed 700 tons more of ice in storage than during June, 1942.

Representatives said they hoped to prevent traffic jams caused by customers calling by automobile for ice, provided they were able to maintain the present rate of production. They hoped to be able to supply all householders with children.

Alderman Gadsden described a simplified type of water cooler for butter and milk, and said he hoped it would be possible to publish plans in order to assist persons who might be unable to secure ice.

God depends upon man to carry out his designs.

Could You USE a USED PIANO

In selling fine new Pianos we often have the opportunity of taking in older instruments which are still musically and mechanically sound. And when our Piano rejuvenation experts have overhauled and rebeautified them it is usually actually and literally true that they LOOK and are as good as new. We have several such instruments right now priced away below their real value.

5 IN MEMORIAM

COONEY—In loving and affectionate memory of our darling daughter and sister, Patricia C.W.A.C., who passed away June 26, 1942.

Forgotten you? Well, if forgetting, Be reading each face that I see, With eyes that search a figure, A feature, Save yours as you last looked at me. Forgotten you? Well, if forgetting, Be yearning with all my heart, With a longing half pain and half rapture, For the time when we never shall part, If the Will wish to see you and hear you, To be held in your arms again. If this be forgetting, you're right, dear, And I have forgotten you then.

(Second verse, "Forgotten I Am" inserted by her sorrowing parents and sisters.

WATT—In loving memory of our dear son, P.O. Thomas Watt, who was lost on H.M.C.S. Fraser, June 26, 1940.

Sleep on dear son, a hero's sleep
Your life for your country you nobly gave.
No loved one stood near to say good-bye,
Safe in God's keeping now you lie.
Ever remembered by his Dad, Mum, brothers and sisters.

Occupation In Victory

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—The sensational Occupation, the United States 1942 juvenile money-winning champion, successfully continued his quest for three-year-old honors today by turning back Slide Rule, owned by W. E. Boeing, Seattle airplane manufacturer, in sizzling stretch tussle for a $2,500 purse over seven furlongs at Washington Park.

The finish was so close it required a camera decision. Valdina Farm's Valdina Sol trailed Slide Rule by two and one-quarter lengths, while the Walmac Farm's The Native was a distant fourth and last in this sprint for three-year-olds. The time was 1:24 1-5.

Occupation, owned by John Marsch, Chicago contractor, went to post at odds-on and returned $3.40 to win and $2.40 to place. The place price on Slide Rule was $3. It was Occupation's second start of the season, both of which he won.

Owner Marsch is convinced that Occupation will run farther and farther in an attempt to see if he is capable of matching strides with Count Fleet in the $50,000-added Arlington Classic at a mile and a quarter July 24. Slide Rule has already vainly tried to catch the Count this season.

The Phoenix Wins Irish Classic at Curragh Park

DUBLIN, June 25 (AP)—Eire's unbeaten three-year-old champion, The Phoenix, won the mile and a half Irish Derby at the Curragh.

Favorite at 5 to 2, F. S. Myerscough's colt, piloted by Joe Canty, came home a length in front of Joseph McGrath's Solar Prince as he added the Derby, valued at 2,000 sovereigns, to his triumph in the 2,000 Guineas a month ago. J. McVay's Solferino was third, another two lengths farther back.

Straight Deal, winner of the English Derby last Saturday at Newmarket, did not run in today's event.

Kewpie Barrett Is Coming Back To Seattle Club

SEATTLE, June 25 (AP)—Chicago Cubs today notified the Seattle Coast League management they were returning Kewpie Dick Barrett, pitcher, who has been having troubles in his third time in the majors. He was minor league "player of the year" in 1942.
